REPORT

ON

MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCES

IN THE

UNITED PROVINCES OF AGRA AND OUDH

FOR THE YEAR 1905-1906.

No. $\frac{3449}{XI-524D}$ OF 1906.

RESOLUTION.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Dated Allahabad, the 16th November 1906.

READ—

The reports submitted by the municipal boards and committees of notified areas upon their administration and finances during the year 1905-1906, with the Commissioners' reviews thereon and the orders passed by the Government.

Read also—

This Government's (Municipal department) resolution no. 3126, dated the 15th November 1905, on the municipal administration for the year 1904-1905.

OBSERVATIONS.—This resolution is concerned only with municipalities. The notified areas have been dealt with by Commissioners: the working of all of them was smooth; during the current year some Act XX towns will be raised to this status. The figures of these areas are tabulated in the new statement lately prescribed by the Government of India.

Number of municipalities.

2. The number of municipalities was, as before, 89, in 76 of which octroi is in force. There are now 17 notified areas, Chunar Settlement having been raised to that status on the 1st April 1905.

Population.

3. The municipal population was 3,110,254. Last year it was recorded as 3,111,583. The difference of 1,329 is due to the exclusion of some villages from the municipality of Ghazipur in 1902, a circumstance which was neglected in the compilation of the figures of the intervening years.

Elections.

4. Polls were held in 49 municipalities only, and 53 per cent. of the qualified electors came forward to vote.

Chairmen.

5. There was no change from the preceding year in the status of chairmen. The Raja of Nanpara, chairman of the Nanpara board, was absent during the whole of the year, and the board has since elected an official as its chairman. The Upper India Chamber of Commerce suggested that it was advisable an officer of the Indian Civil Service should be appointed to work exclusively as chairman of the Cawnpore board for a term of years: but the proposal has been shelved, at any rate for the present.

Meetings and attendance of members.

6. The number of meetings again fell, from 2,041 to 1,962, though the number of boards remained the same as before. The average of meetings held by each board was 22.

The attendance of members was satisfactory. In 8 places the average was less than half the board, viz. Mussooree, Saharanpur, Rae Bareli, Nanpara, Bisalpur, Soron, Tilhar and Tanda, of which the first 5 were mentioned last year for the same reason. In 5 the attendance was just half, viz. Jalesar, Kalpi, Lucknow, Lakhimpur and Sultanpur: of these Jalesar was last year noted. In Mussooree and Tanda a great number of meetings were held for the purposes respectively of revising the by-laws and of hearing appeals against tax assessments; the members in Tilhar and Jalesar are reported to be apathetic, and in Rae Bareli two members attended no meetings, one being absent on leave most of the time; the remaining boards assign no reason for the small attendance, but in some cases it was no doubt caused by plague. With a new chairman the Nanpara board may possibly do better.

Revision of octroi and new taxes.

7. The changes made during the year were unimportant. Ten octroi schedules were revised completely, and in 14 places the rates on certain imports were altered. The duty was abolished on barley and gram in Mau Ranipur and on various petty articles in 7 other municipalities. Etawah and Benares revised the rates of their vehicle taxes, and this same tax was regularized in Muzaffarnagar by the issue of a correct notification. A nominal imposition of house tax at Lakhimpur was published. The tax had been in force for over 30 years, but it was found there was no notification extant to justify it. To provide funds for its hydro-electric and water supply scheme Mussooree revised its toll rates on horses, ponies, pack animals and dandies, and, with the sanction of the Government of India, on laden coolies also.

Rules.

8. The process of revision of rules and by-laws continued. Rules for the assessment and collection of taxes were revised in Agra, Shahjahanpur, Kashipur, Etawah, Benares, Muzaffarnagar, Moradabad and Budaun. In other rules nearly all municipalities made changes and exceptional instances only need be mentioned. Dairies were regulated in Mussooree, Allahabad and Agra, and in Mussooree the sale of milk, butter and cream also. This municipality has also taken in hand the regulation of livery stables and cow houses. Saharanpur made rules prohibiting the sale and possession of cocaine, but they are now superseded by the new Excise Act. Meerut found it necessary to insist on the appointment of agents by house-holders. At Agra some restrictions were imposed on the throwing of dead bodies into the river. Numerous examples of rules to regulate the sale of meat, the control of burial and burning grounds, the growth of high crops, the drawing of water from wells, the trenching of night-soil, the regulation of slaughter-houses, markets and bazars, and so forth, are all evidences of the general desire for more complete sanitary reform. The interests of municipal employés were consulted by a revision of one of the provident fund rules, which was made in several towns.

The United Provinces Sewerage and Drainage Act, 1894, was extended to Deoband and Fyzabad and chapters III—VII of the United Provinces Water Works Act, 1891, were extended to Mussooree.

By a general rule the following items were universally exempted from octroi during the year:—machinery and component parts of machinery of the kinds exempted from duty in the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, article 14, schedule IV; carriages and vehicles of all sorts; machines worked by manual power when used for industrial or educational purposes.

A large number of boards have now completely revised their by-laws and have furnished the Government with printed copies, and a new edition of the Municipal Account Code was printed during the year.

Revision of boundaries.

9. Benares during the year revised its boundaries under the United Provinces Water Works Act, 1891, and took the opportunity to revise the municipal and octroi limits, which needed some little definition and extension. Hapur for the purposes of better administration included in its municipal limits the area between former borders and the railway lines. In Budaun too the advent of a new railway line made necessary the inclusion of some adjacent ground.

Accounts.

10. The ordinary income of the 89 municipalities was Rs. 61,40,973: in the previous year it was Rs. 57,72,064. The total does not include loans (Rs. 7,20,750), compensation paid to Agra by the Military department (Rs. 1,04,945), educational and other grants (Rs. 1,12,934) and other smaller items, which bring the gross income up to Rs. 71,73,349.

Noticeable items of increase are octroi (Rs. 1,78,380), terminal tax (Rs. 33,932), pilgrim tax (Rs. 18,956), and fees from markets and slaughter-houses (Rs. 30,957), while house tax and rents show a slight falling off. The expenditure rose correspondingly from Rs. 68,17,592 to Rs. 71,23,452. Here also the increase was general, notable growth occurring in the charges for water supply (Rs. 1,25,136), drainage (Rs. 1,52,291), conservancy (Rs. 1,13,528), roads (Rs. 1,03,985). The only large decrease was under police (Rs. 3,78,811), due to the partial relief of municipalities from these charges by the Government. It is satisfactory to observe that it was possible to reduce plague charges by Rs. 43,540.

Balances.

11. The following boards had balances in excess of Rs. 30,000 :—

	Rs.		Rs.
Mussooree	2,55,303	Hardwar Union	45,951
Lucknow	1,67,969	Moradabad	45,147
Agra	1,32,469	Koil (Aligarh)	43,367
Allahabad	1,20,557	Dehra	41,591
Fyzabad	1,04,967	Muttra	38,291
Saharanpur	85,834	Deoband	36,612
Cawnpore	77,031	Bareilly	35,999
Benares	73,143	Etawah	34,275
Meerut	55,042	Mirzapur	33,939
Naini Tal	51,388	Hathras	33,498

But these figures in the cases of Mussooree, Allahabad, Fyzabad, Cawnpore, Benares, Naini Tal, Dehra and Mirzapur, include balances of loans granted for specific purposes: these municipalities all have important works in hand. Of the others Saharanpur, Moradabad, Muttra, Etawah, Hathras, Deoband and possibly Meerut will utilize their funds on their respective drainage schemes, which are either already started or are being considered. Aligarh intends to fill up and drain a tank, and Lucknow will complete several works which it was compelled to postpone. The Agra balance is swollen by Rs. 1,04,945 received late in the year from the Military department on account of its original outlay in the joint water works scheme, and the Hardwar balance by Rs. 20,000 which belongs to the fairs account. The Agra balance has already been used upon water works extension. Bareilly is laying out funds upon small projects. During the year the Aligarh board cleared off the whole of its loan by advance payments.

Octroi receipts.

12. The gross and net receipts of the last two years compare as follows :—

	Gross.	Net.
	Rs.	Rs.
1904-5 ...	40,44,980	32,09,669
1905-6 ...	41,93,854	33,88,049
	+1,48,874	+1,78,380

It is satisfactory to observe that this increase is very fairly divided among the various divisions of the province, all of which in fact show an increase in their net income, with the exception of Gorakhpur; here the fall is due to the municipality of Gorakhpur itself, which was hampered by an epidemic of plague. Meerut, Aligarh, Agra, Bareilly, Allahabad, Mirzapur and Lucknow show the largest accessions, while Benares had a severe drop of Rs. 14,373, due to large exports made to places where prices were high on account of agricultural failure. Farrukhabad and Sitapur suffered loss owing to damage to the rabi crop and in Kalpi the famine reduced the receipts; but no other large decreases were recorded.

The general causes of increase were recovery from plague, accompanied by the return of population, revision of schedules, large imports of grain or cattle caused by the presence of famine in the neighbourhood (e.g. in Agra, Etawah, Cawnpore and Kunch) and in Allahabad the occurrence of the Kumbh mela. In many places also there is no doubt that better supervision of the collection of octroi has led to the good results obtained.

The import and export figures of grain vary considerably from those of last year in all divisions. The determining causes were the general frosts of the spring of 1905, and the drought of the autumn of that year in the south-western districts. It would appear that in the areas where the superior grains are largely produced and at the same time largely consumed, a very large portion of the production was retained in villages. Imports and exports of the higher priced grains into towns declined enormously, and the grains imported for food were the lower priced grains. This phenomenon is noticeable in Hathras, Aligarh, Sikandrabad, Mainpuri, Banda and Kunch. On the other hand in areas where the higher grains are less grown and the 1905 crop of them was severely damaged by frost, the imports of the higher grains rose. This was the case for example in Jaunpur. In the individual reports the explanations of noticeable variations of this kind have not always been clearly set out.

Through trade and local consumption.

13. The figures of apparent consumption of the more important commodities on which octroi is levied are discussed below.

Grain.—The provincial consumption rose from 6 maunds 9 sers to 6 maunds 37 sers, and the number of places where the figure is in excess of 8 maunds was 20. It is probable that this rise is merely temporary, and is due to scarcity and high prices, being caused by large stocking in the centres of distressed tracts and disposal in small quantities to the vicinity without refund. For example, of the 8 municipalities where the figure is over 10 maunds, 5 are affected by these influences, Etawah, Kunch, Mau Ranipur, Jhansi and Orai: of the others, in Dehra the reason is as given last year, in Dhampur, though some stocks were certainly accumulated, yet the administration was clearly defective and has been commented on, while in Hapur, where wheat is exempt, the high figure is possibly due to the advent of the railway. Of other high incidences, which it is not necessary to enumerate, the causes generally were large imports brought about by failure of the local crops or mads in anticipation of famine; but in Khurja the high incidence has not been satisfactorily explained. Taking the province as a whole, it may be said that famine or the expectation of famine led to the increase of 7 lakhs of maunds in the imports of grain into the municipalities, generally of the inferior grains, while exports fell off by 12½ lakhs of maunds, with a check in the export of wheat. This with ordinary conditions should not continue next year and there would be a drop in the figures of consumption. In Muzaffarnagar, though there is improvement compared with last year, there is reason to suspect defective arrangements for refund, since with wheat and rice not taxed the figure is still high.

In those places where the consumption is low plague is again a disturbing factor. But in Nanpara and Bisalpur smuggling is suspected. In Hardwar, where the figure has dropped suddenly by a maund, charitable or useless consumption was doubtless reduced owing to high prices. In Bahraich the question whether grain should be retained in the schedule will shortly be considered.

Sugar.—The average consumption, reduced to terms of unrefined sugar, was 53 sers as against 49, and the variations are still remarkable. The figure for refined sugar rose from 10 to 12 sers while that of unrefined fell from 19 sers to 17. A revision of the standards is under consideration. It appears possible that refined sugar is no longer the equivalent of 3 times its weight of unrefined sugar either in quality or in price; but in the present unsettled state of the sugar trade a decision of the question is not urgent. In Bahraich the rise from 33 to 50 sers is explained by low sales of the previous year at large fairs caused by plague. In Khurja for a rise from 116 to 124 sers no clear reasons are given. At Fyzabad the levy of octroi, which is indefensible, will shortly be replaced by a tax on the refining industry. At Ghazipur, where there is an extremely low figure of 13 sers, a system of composition is in force, which is probably not yet in its final form. In Etawah the unusual agricultural circumstances of the year caused a noticeable rise in the apparent consumption, as in the case of grain, and in Kosi the new figures represent the introduction of octroi on the 1st February 1906. The high standard at Bareilly is occupying the attention of the board. At Anupshahr the fall is attributed to drought, plague and an abnormally small attendance at the bathing fairs.

Oil and oilseeds.—The provincial average went back again from 3 to 4 sers, the average being 5 sers or more in 12 municipalities only. During the year Jhansi and Orai, because of heavy refunds, removed oilseeds from their schedules, and other places are now following the example.

Other articles.—The consumption of ghi and tobacco was much the same as usual. The rise from 2 to 9 sers of tobacco in Lalitpur is accompanied by a drop from 12 to 6 in the neighbouring Mau Ranipur; the change probably represents the different prosperity of the two places caused by the seasons. The consumption of cloth rose from Rs. 8-12-0 to Rs. 9-7-0, noticeable increases being Lalitpur again, and Hardwar, where circumstances are exceptional. The attention of the Etah board has been called to a high incidence in metals, and Mainpuri proposes to abolish the duty on this commodity. The unusual incidence of drugs and spices at Mau Ranipur was due to the large import of the gum which is used in making kharua, a kind of red cloth manufactured in that neighbourhood: necessity is said to have driven people to collect it in the jungles and exchange it for food. The refunds on leather in Najibabad were 74 per cent. of the gross tax and the board exempted raw hides as a remedy: this may affect the figures of next year.

Receipts from taxes other than octroi.

14. The receipts from taxes other than octroi were Rs. 13,16,444 or Rs. 65,092 more than in the previous year. The increase is divided generally among the various heads, there being a slight fall only in the house and lands tax, the tax on animals and vehicles, the conservancy tax and the tax on animals for slaughter. Notable increases are shown in the tax on professions and trades (Rs. 10,642), mostly due to the realization of arrears in Cawnpore and to the new taxes imposed in other towns last year. Tolls brought in a further income of Rs. 10,137, of which Mussooree accounts for Rs. 9,909 by reason of the enhancement of its rates. Naini Tal also shows an addition, but Agra lost Rs. 2,600 through the welcome exemption of foot passengers from bridge tolls. Water-rate receipts rose by Rs. 13,775, and the causes were normal, save that in Benares the assessment was revised. Cawnpore again benefited, as was anticipated, by increased receipts from the terminal tax and tolls, and Fyzabad from its new pilgrim tax received Rs. 18,658.

Incidence of taxation.

15. The incidence of taxation rose slightly from Rs. 1-7-0 to Rs. 1-8-3. The increased receipts from taxes are explained with sufficient detail in paragraph 14; as usual the expansion of octroi income is the main factor. The figures for Naini Tal and Mussooree have risen a little, and are now Rs. 7-15-9 and Rs. 8-4-0 respectively.

Receipts from sources other than taxation.

16. The income from sources other than taxation rose considerably. Excluding abnormal items, the variations noticeable were—

	Rs.
Realizations under special Acts	+ 2,724
Rents	— 5,019
Sale of land	— 2,483
Conservancy	+ 15,790
Markets	+ 30,957
Registration fees	+ 13,131
Interest on investments	— 7,138
Sale proceeds of Government securities	+ 14,577

In the first item a nominal fall in pound receipts, due to the regularization of the system of feeding charges, was more than counterbalanced by increased fees from hackney carriage licenses and stricter supervision of petroleum licenses. Under rents Benares has lost Rs. 3,541 by the abolition of jhari dues. The rise under conservancy is satisfactory and this income should improve still further. The improved supervision of markets was very general and a new market was built at Bareilly, while at Saharanpur and Dehra the butchers were persuaded after some trouble to use the new buildings. In the drought-affected tracts there were very large imports of cattle for sale, which caused the rise in sale registration fees. The fall in interest follows on the sale of securities and the utilization of balances.

Contributions and special grants from the Government.

17. During the year grants aggregating Rs. 1,12,934 were made by the Government of which Rs. 23,249 was distributed through district boards for the extension of primary education and represents a proportionate share of the 6 lakhs devoted to that purpose in the province. The remainder, Rs. 89,685, was given to 13 municipalities for specific objects. The amount was considerably larger than in the previous year, but in each case urgent necessity was well established: the total includes Rs. 25,000 which it was found possible towards the close of the year to divert from the direct expenditure on plague prevention. The whole was designed to be spent on drainage or the preparation of drainage plans and estimates, with the exception of Rs. 500 which was eventually spent on plague in Sândila. Six places were added to the list of those relieved of all charges for police, and it was reckoned that the Government had assumed on behalf of these boards a charge of Rs. 3,70,762. This sum the relieved boards, as was arranged, expended as follows:—on plague (Rs. 1,02,115), on conservancy (Rs. 77,682), on drains and pavement of lanes (Rs. 75,938), on miscellaneous sanitary works (Rs. 56,638), on loan charges (Rs. 17,981), on education (Rs. 9,534), on police outposts (Rs. 8,031) and on medical charges (Rs. 588). About Rs. 6,000 was not accounted for by three municipalities, and some Rs. 15,000 has been reserved in half a dozen places for future drainage works. Since the close of the year all boards have been completely freed from police charges.

Loans.

18. The following loans were given by the Government during the year. The instalments were not in each case taken in full, and in some cases the amounts paid were not wholly utilized. Mussooree took 2½ lakhs out of the loan of Rs. 7,30,000 sanctioned for the hydro-electric and water supply scheme, and Cawnpore 1 lakh for the extension of its sewerage and the construction of connected works. Allahabad borrowed Rs. 52,000 for a new filter bed and for the expansion of its water works buildings, Ballia Rs. 50,000 for the laying out of its new town and the attendant acquisition of land, and Kosi Rs. 17,750 for the filling up of insanitary tanks. Mirzapur, Chandausi and Fyzabad received Rs. 60,000, Rs. 40,000 and Rs. 25,000 respectively as portions of the loans taken to finance their drainage schemes, and the first named of these after the revision of its scheme at a total cost of approximately 2 lakhs received Rs. 75,000 as an instalment of a further loan. Naini Tal was given Rs. 45,000, the first part of the loan with which it is to construct its new meat and vegetable market, and Dehra took Rs. 6,000 as first instalment of a loan of Rs. 31,000 which it required for a joint scheme of water supply for the municipality and the cantonment: this latter sum has however been refunded during the current year, as the cantonment has abandoned its share of the project, and a smaller scheme will be undertaken by the board.

Expenditure.

19. The most important variations in expenditure were in these heads—

	Rs.		Rs.
General administration ...	+28,918	Education	+22,806
Lighting	+19,627	Contributions	+28,372
Police	—3,78,811	Interest	+31,512
Water supply	+1,25,136	Plague	—43,540
Drainage	+1,52,291	Miscellaneous (other items)	+19,502
Conservancy	+1,13,528	Repayment of loans ...	+61,121
Public works { Buildings ...	+18,824
Public works { Roads ...	+1,03,985

Changes not shown under these heads include extra charges for survey and acquisition of land, for arboriculture and experimental cultivation and for the laying out of public gardens. The extended outlay on administration and lighting is normal. The decreased charge for police really took place in the preceding year, but was concealed by the form which it took in the accounts.

The need of extended expenditure on conservancy was universally recognised, and in very many municipalities excellent reforms were carried out; establishment charges naturally rose also in connection with the expansion of drainage and sewerage Upon the satisfactory large diminution in plague charges Allahabad has most reason to congratulate itself, as its expenditure was reduced by over Rs. 32,000; but Benares, Cawnpore and Mirzapur were also called upon to spend much less than in the previous year. The improvement in this direction was fairly general, and Agra is the only town whose charges increased to any large extent.

Most of the extra charge for buildings was spent on new police quarters in various places, but of other works Nanpara constructed a municipal office and a primary school, and Ballia spent some thousands of rupees on shops in the new town. The activity shown in the laying out and repair of roads was widespread: the heaviest charges were borne by Lucknow, which bought a new steam roller, by Benares, which completed several roads started the year before, and by Ballia, which spent some Rs. 9,000 on preparing the roads of its new town. Contributions to cantonments for their share of octroi receipts again rose and the extra miscellaneous charges were mainly due to the visit of T. R. H. the Prince and Princess of Wales, and to the cost of acquiring land in Ballia.

Water and drainage works.

20. The expenditure on water works amounted in all to Rs. 6,52,270. There is a very general demand for the extension of the works and the supply in the larger places and much more money could be profitably spent if more were available. As usual the eight large towns incurred the majority of the expenditure, only Rs. 20,561 being spent elsewhere. Details have been given in the Sanitary Engineer's 11th annual report. The work of improving the supply in Almora was completed last year, but the supply is still inadequate and a further loan may be needed. Sultanpur spent Rs. 1,261 on improving defective wells. Mirzapur, Najibabad, Sambhal and other places are considering the question of a proper supply, and Jhansi is examining the subject in communication with irrigation officers.

On drainage and sewerage the amount spent was Rs. 10,97,209. Here also funds are sorely needed in many places. The same eight towns account for Rs. 6,69,850 of these charges. Agra has completed its intercepting sewer; Cawnpore spent nearly 2½ lakhs on extending its sewerage, and making connections with the latrines of the mills; Allahabad received a grant of Rs. 20,000 for draining the new settlement of Lukerganj; and Benares carried on its general scheme, but was restricted by want of funds. Lucknow spent nearly 2¾ lakhs in its general scheme of drainage, and had bills outstanding at the end of the year to a very large amount for work done.

In Mirzapur the scheme was considerably extended, and progress was continuous and the work well reported on. Farrukhabad, Aligarh, Dehra, Chandausi, Lakhimpur, Shahjahanpur, Mau Ranipur, Kosi and Deoband all did good work by improving their drainage in various ways. In Fyzabad the expenditure was Rs. 27,062 and should apparently have been more: the progress made with the preparation of the general scheme was for a time not satisfactory.

A large number of towns have schemes under consideration or ready to be put in hand, viz. Hathras, Nagina, Gonda, Bahraich, Nanpara, Roorkee, Kairana, Hapur, Ghazipur, Jaunpur, Brindaban, Firozabad, Moradabad, Amroha, Muttra, Etawah, Fatehpur, Azamgarh, Khurja, and possibly others. In most cases funds are not immediately available, but the list is sufficient to show the general activity and desire for sanitary reform which prevails throughout the municipalities of the province. In four places the work of drainage which is going on is part only of complete schemes which at present have to be carried out piecemeal owing to the amount of money involved. In Benares, for example, estimates amounting to 20 lakhs have been approved by the Government, while Lucknow and Allahabad are drawing up schemes which will probably cost not less than 20 lakhs and 6 lakhs respectively. Fyzabad is as yet unable to round off its projects to completion, but the anticipated cost is large.

The preparation of all these designs, except in the few places which have secured the efficient services of Mr. Lane Brown, devolves upon the Sanitary Engineer to Government, whose time is more than fully occupied. Boards are consequently hindered in almost all cases from pushing on their works as quickly as they would like. The appointment of an assistant for him, lately sanctioned by the Secretary of State, will provide a welcome relief. A proposal made during the year that some municipalities requiring an executive engineer and not only a supervisor should form themselves into groups and employ one jointly has for the present been abandoned.

Education.

21. The allotments for expenditure on education rose from Rs. 2,65,680 to Rs. 2,88,486, the number of schools aided and managed from 820 to 876, and the number of scholars from 50,340 to 58,823. The sum spent includes Rs. 19,418 received through district boards for immediate use as a share of the six lakhs granted by the Imperial Government to the province for the spread of primary education ; the actual amount so given was Rs. 23,249, but of this Rs. 3,831 remained unspent, and the boards of Mainpuri, Benares, Deoband and Chandpur have had their attention drawn to the failure. The expenditure on education was again 4·7 per cent. of the net income of all municipalities. Interest in primary education continued to expand in a satisfactory way and was assisted by the grants made : the number of primary schools (both boys and girls) rose from 374 to 454, and to this latter number may be added 248 indigenous schools. The advance of female education is slow, but generally speaking the results are good and prospects hopeful. The number of girls' schools, aided and managed, rose from 111 to 116. In fact 11 new ones were brought on the lists ; Khurja, Sikandrabad and Nanpara opened new schools, which are doing well ; Lucknow and Bijnor each extended their assistance to two more existing institutions, while Nagina, Moradabad, Sandila and Cawnpore added one to their previous numbers. But on the other hand 6 schools were either closed or ceased to receive aid : Kunch and Jhansi closed their own schools, the former explicitly because of its inefficiency, and aid was withdrawn from 4 others, viz. in Benares (1), in Lalitpur (2), and in Saharanpur (1). In 5 of these cases no reasons have been assigned, and this question might be more fully noticed in the reports of the current year.

Vaccination.

22. The results of vaccination generally are very satisfactory. The number of persons successfully vaccinated per 1,000 of population was 35·84 as against 32·74 in the previous year, and the number of successful primary vaccinations rose from 96,430 to 104,409. The degree of protection varies largely and where it is least the cause is usually attributed to the presence of plague and cholera. For example Khairabad had 59·24 persons successfully vaccinated per mille, Bahraich 58·31, Bisalpur 57·56, Sitapur 56·72 and Deoband 54·30, while Sultanpur had 22·41 only, Nawabganj (Bara Banki) 20·86, Unao 20·67 and Dhampur 19·35. Special measures were taken in places to improve the work of vaccination, which appears to have improved in Shahjahanpur, Jhansi and Pilibhit, but in the following towns it is noted to be deficient or bad, viz. Kashipur, Lucknow, Meerut, Hathras, Chandpur, Nagina, Sahaswan, Tilhar, Najibabad, Bulandshahr, Khurja, Sikandra Rao, Benares, Aligarh, Lakhimpur and Rae Bareli, of which the last four were mentioned for the same failure last year also. It is not creditable to large cities like Benares to have a continuous bad record. The returns for Kashipur and Mirzapur are still doubtful.

Vital statistics.

23. The number of recorded births fell from 128,182 to 120,160 and of deaths from 166,626 to 144,666. The latter may be regarded as a very satisfactory improvement. The provincial urban death rate has fallen per mille from 53·5 to 46·51 ; plague was still prevalent, though small-pox and cholera were again comparatively less active, and there may be some ground for hoping that the spread of sanitary reforms has had an effect. In 15 towns in the previous year the death rate was over 70 per mille : this year the number fell to 4, viz. Anupshahr (76·62), Chandpur (74·29), Najibabad (72·82), Chandausi (71·14), but there were 11 towns in which the rate rose above 60. In some places, such as Anupshahr and Najibabad, it seems clear that greater attention is needed to sanitation : it is difficult to fight plague directly, but insistence on cleanliness may help in loosening its hold. Registration has been improved in places, for example in Tilhar, while in Dehra and Amroha it is possible the higher death rates now recorded are due rather to better recording than to more general disease. In many registration is still defective, e.g. Bahraich, Mirzapur and Sikandra Rao.

Investments.

24. The only investment made during the year was that of Rs. 28,200 in government paper by the Hathras board. This was the discharge value of the Cawnpore-Achnera railway debentures for Rs. 16,100 mentioned last year. Chandausi, Kosi, Farrukhabad and Benares sold out investments for use in drainage works and Sitapur did so to meet ordinary expenditure. Aligarh had its railway debentures paid off.

Finances of indebted municipalities.

25. A brief account of the financial condition of each municipality which is in debt to the Government is given below, in accordance with the letter of the Government of India, no. 138, dated the 16th August 1898.

Agra.—The income of the board shows development, octroi alone bringing in a net additional income of Rs. 17,000. But the expansion of the city necessitates the execution of a number of works for which the existing resources are clearly inadequate. The board has made good use of its funds by improving the water works, completing the intercepting sewer, and carrying out numerous sanitary works. But the growing demand for water calls for further costly extension to the works at an early date, the city drainage must be enlarged, improvement is needed for the northern suburbs, a conservancy tramway is urgently required, and the construction of a free ganj is under consideration—to name a few urgent works only. Some of these, when completed, will pay for themselves ; others will not, or will be only indirectly remunerative. It would appear that the board's normal income is insufficient even to cover its expenditure, if the latter is to be worthy of the town ; and to meet the new outlay more money is certainly required. The income from taxation is not excessive, though high, viz. Rs. 2-1-9 per head, and the board has been asked to consider methods of increasing its income without hardship to the inhabitants.

Allahabad.—Under almost every head of receipt there was an increase, so that at the close of the year there was a substantial cash balance of Rs. 1,03,429. The financial position is therefore much improved. The board's liabilities will, it is true, be augmented by additional loans needed for its drainage project and for extensions of the water supply ; but it has in its receipts from house tax, sale of water and rents a steadily rising income, and it may be expected that as the drainage works are carried out the expenditure on plague will decrease. There is therefore no reason to fear that the board will be unable to discharge its liabilities.

Almora.—The board has a small annual surplus income, which will enable it, if necessary, to contract another loan, in order to improve the water supply.

Ballia.—Owing to the erosions of the river Ganges, the board was compelled to acquire a new site for the town and to incur a debt of Rs. 50,000 to pay for it. With the help of a donation of Rs. 15,000 from the Government the site has for the greater part been laid out. The board's finances are satisfactory and sufficient to meet the loan charges and its other requirements.

Bareilly.—In contrast to the previous year the year of report was one of financial prosperity, the net income from octroi being the highest received and in excess of that of the preceding year by nearly Rs. 30,000. The board was able to meet all demands and carry out works of improvement, and had a closing cash balance of Rs. 35,999.

Benares.—The situation is still unsatisfactory. Even with a curtailment of the expenditure on urgent public works the board was unable to avoid a deficit, which, if abnormal figures be excluded, would work out at about Rs. 25,000. Should it be found impossible to revive the pilgrim tax in a modified form, the board will have to devise some other means of increasing its income without delay, for drainage, water works and conservancy all need money.

Cawnpore.—The position is satisfactory, though the board contracted a fresh loan of one lakh during the year. There was a large saving in conservancy outlay and the terminal taxes have yielded a good increase, so that it is possible the fluctuations of past years were only temporary. Excluding abnormal expenditure the charges were within the income.

Chandausi.—In order to carry out a scheme of drainage the board has incurred a loan of one lakh, of which the first instalment (Rs. 40,000) was paid during the year. But with the extra income which the board will acquire from a recent revision of its octroi schedule, and from the provincialization of police charges, it will have no difficulty in paying its debt.

Dehra.—The board has taken a small further loan for the purpose of improving the water supply. The income is still rising and is capable of further expansion; there is also a substantial cash balance.

Fyzabad.—The enforcement of the pilgrim tax has strengthened very considerably the financial position of the board, and the funds should profit still more when the collecting arrangements have been perfected. No apprehensions are entertained about the board's capacity to discharge its loan liabilities.

Kashipur.—The financial position is perfectly stable.

Kosi.—The board will have no difficulty in meeting the small loan of Rs. 17,750 which it took for the purpose of filling up tanks and depressions, now that it has been relieved of police charges and has enhanced some of its octroi rates.

Lucknow.—The condition of the board's finances remains satisfactory for the present. The octroi income continued to improve and the increased receipts more than covered the loss from water-rate caused by decreased consumption of water in the cantonment. There was at the end of the year a large balance, due to unexpended allotments, but it is difficult to see how the drainage is to be completed with the board's present resources.

Meerut.—The position is stable. The income from octroi rose still further and there is a large cash balance.

Mirzapur.—The board's position is sound, as it has a substantial cash balance, and during the year the income from octroi rose by more than Rs. 11,000. It is considering a water scheme to supplement the extensive drainage that has been carried out.

Mussooree.—The board's liabilities were increased during the year by Rs. 2,50,000, the first instalment of the loan of Rs. 7,30,000 sanctioned for its hydro-electric water supply and lighting scheme. The ordinary sources of income however have not yet reached their limit, and the recent enhancement of certain toll rates has resulted in a very satisfactory addition to the board's annual income. This, with the proceeds of the sale of electricity and of the water rate which will no doubt shortly be imposed, should render the position of the board perfectly stable.

Muzaffarnagar.—The receipts were again in excess of the expenditure and the board's position financially is strong.

Naini Tal.—For the construction of a meat and vegetable market the board took during the year the first instalment of a loan of Rs. 75,000. There was however satisfactory general increase in the receipts, and the market itself will be to some extent remunerative. There is therefore no present reason for anxiety with regard to the board's position, though for certain urgent sanitary works the Government found it necessary to provide a subsidy.

General results.

26. In spite of the late frosts and of plague, which was epidemic throughout the province, one district only—Almora—being entirely free from it, the general health during the year was good. In the latter part of the year Bundelkhand and parts of the Agra division were affected by famine and drought, but the effect was not always to the detriment of municipal incomes, and the year on the whole was a prosperous one. Though the direct expenditure on plague was less, the boards have recognised that something may be done indirectly to lessen the evil, and have effected much in the way of drainage, improvement of wells and other water supply, pavement of lanes, conservancy and general extension of sanitary supervision. For these purposes, as has been said before, more money is needed : the Government has made grants to the limit of its capacity, and has brought the necessity of further help to the notice of the Government of India. The important towns of Agra and Benares—to name no others—are in need of large sums for the most pressing projects, of the execution of which there is for want of these funds no immediate prospect.

Among the various methods adopted for combating the plague the rat-killing of the year may be specially mentioned. Some boards, judging by the reports, must have doubted its efficiency, but in other places large numbers were killed. The number actually reported is 707,379, but this is probably short of the real total. Bareilly and Budaun deserve mention for really effective arrangements, and their example might be more generally followed. The number of boards whose conservancy arrangements are still defective, or who neglect to use their balances suitably on necessary improvements, is small. Mussooree, the sanitary condition of which had been criticised by some authorities, has reduced its hygienic policy to definite lines, which have received formal approval.

The supervision of octroi shows a continuous advance, seven boards only being adversely criticised in the audit notes of the year. In some cases better income is attributed solely to improvement in this direction. There were also no embezzlements reported. The annual report of the Examiner of accounts has not yet been received, but nearly everywhere the accounts of the boards are said to be well kept and there was an improvement in the preparation of the annual reports.

On the whole it may be said that municipal boards have justified the trust reposed in them : that their administration is guided by an increasing sense of responsibility and that their services have merited the approval of the Government and of the citizens. The Lieutenant Governor is glad to have the opportunity of expressing his gratification at the hopeful prospect which lies before municipal self-government in this province.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions for information and communication to the chairmen of municipal boards.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the United Provinces Government Gazette for general information.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant Governor,

J. W. HOSE,

Secretary to Government, United Provinces.

REPORT

ON

IN THE

UNITED PROVINCES OF AGRA AND OUDH

FOR THE YEAR 1906-1907.

No. $\frac{3523}{\text{XI—524D}}$ OF 1907.

RESOLUTION.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Dated Allahabad, the 28th November 1907.

READ—

The reports submitted by municipal boards and committees of notified areas upon their administration and finances during the year 1906-1907, with the Commissioners' reviews thereon and the orders passed by the Government.

Read also—

This Government's (Municipal department) resolution no. 3449, dated the 16th November 1906, on the municipal administration for the year 1905-1906.

OBSERVATIONS.—This resolution deals only with municipalities. Commissioners have reviewed the various reports of notified areas, the accounts of which are separately tabulated. Certain towns were declared to be notified areas from the beginning of the current year, and the number will be increased by the conversion of others with effect from the 1st April 1908.

The statements appended to this resolution are in the revised forms recently prescribed by the Government of India, and it is to changes in the method of accounting adopted in these forms that certain discrepancies between the figures for 1905-06 as quoted in this resolution and in the resolution of last year are due.

Number of municipalities.

2. During the year no change was made in the number of municipalities or of notified areas. Octroi was in force in 76 out of the 89 municipalities.

Population.

3. The municipal population recorded has risen from 3,110,254 to 3,115,345. The increase is due to alterations in boundaries, some of which, though made before 1904, had escaped observation in the compilation of previous returns.

Elections.

4. In the 87 municipalities which enjoy the privilege of electing their members 70,846 persons, or 2·3 per cent. of the total population, were eligible to vote.

Polls were held in 62 municipalities. In a few instances—as at Muttra, Firozabad, Orai and Shahabad—a considerable number of the electorate came forward to vote; but generally no great interest was taken in the elections and, on the whole, only 25·7 per cent. of the qualified electors recorded their votes.

Chairmen.

5. During the year there was no change in the status of the chairmen of municipal boards. At Chandpur the tahsildar is elected to this post, but in view of the board's unfavourable record in past years it has been suggested that it would be better for the District Magistrate to be chairman.

Meetings and attendance of members.

6. In a few places municipal meetings were poorly attended. At Azamgarh and Shahabad certain individual members were apparently not regular in their attendance, and the members at Hathras are somewhat apathetic. In fifteen municipalities the average attendance at each meeting was 50 per cent. or less, but in several the low percentage is satisfactorily explained, and in others, where no explanation has been given, it was doubtless due to plague. Generally members were regular in their attendance, and the number of meetings, which rose slightly from 1962 to 1989, averaged, as in the previous year, 22 for each board.

Revision of octroi and new taxes.

7. There was a noticeable diminution as compared with recent years in proposals for the modification of taxation in municipalities. Only four boards undertook a systematic revision of their octroi schedules, and in six other cases modifications were made in those existing. These changes were mainly directed to the assistance of trade, the most important being the relief of native cloth from octroi duty at Etawah, of castor-oil and castor-seeds at Hathras, and of country cloth, thread for weaving and oilseeds at Nagina. Metals have been exempted from octroi taxation in Mainpuri, but the exemption will have effect from the current year. In respect of other imposts only two minor changes of a more or less formal nature can be recorded—one at Benares affecting the application of the existing tax on houses and buildings, the other in respect of the toll on animals entering municipal limits at Naini Tal.

Rules.

8. The municipal boards of Mussooree, Hapur and Farrukhabad showed marked activity in framing rules, but on the whole the number of rules published in the year shows a considerable reduction. The main feature of the year's outturn was the desire shown to improve the position of municipal employees. No less than thirty-two boards took steps to make their provident fund rules conform generally to the revised model rules on the subject. Several boards took advantage of this opportunity to make provision for the grant of a bonus on the completion of approved service for a specified period, and five boards established provident funds for their servants for the first time.

Generally rules relating to taxation were unaltered, but the rules for the assessment and collection of the tax on tobacco-growers were revised in Meerut, Fyzabad and Farrukhabad. Of rules relating to other subjects a few only need be mentioned. Rules to regulate motor traffic were passed for Bareilly and Lucknow, rules to regulate the admission of meat for sale within municipal limits for Agra and Amroha, and rules for the regulation of jhampanis for Naini Tal. The municipal board of Allahabad found it necessary to control the sale and preparation for sale of flour and to provide for the inspection of flour mills, while the opening of bakeries was brought under regulation in Mussooree. The election rules of Dehra and of Mussooree were recast in accordance with recent precedents, and a complete set of rules under the United Provinces Water-Works Act, 1891, was published for the Lucknow municipality.

The United Provinces Sewerage and Drainage Act, 1894, was extended to Allahabad during the year. The rules prescribing the qualifications of teachers in municipal schools were brought into line with those obtaining in district boards' schools; and rules were published defining the duties of municipal boards generally in the matter of education and prescribing that municipal boards should spend at least 5 per cent. of their normal net income on education.

Revision of boundaries.

9. The boundaries of the Naini Tal municipality were revised during the year.

Accounts.

10. The income of the 89 municipalities, exclusive of special grants and extraordinary receipts, rose from Rs. 61,22,399 to Rs. 62,55,795. To this increase most heads contributed, but the largest accessions were from octroi (Rs. 28,384), terminal tax and tolls (Rs. 31,007), sale of land (Rs. 62,401) and conservancy (Rs. 26,937). There was a corresponding increase in expenditure, the total rising by Rs. 1,55,810 to Rs. 69,66,411.

Here too the expansion was general, notable increases occurring in the charges for water supply (Rs. 3,18,838) and conservancy (Rs. 57,111). The outlay on drainage, however, fell by Rs. 2,39,220 for reasons explained later in this resolution. The smaller charge under police is due to the complete relief of all municipalities from the cost of establishment, and the decrease in expenditure of a miscellaneous nature is chiefly due to the fact that several very exceptional charges appeared last year under this head. Of other charges not included in the above figures the larger amounts spent in investments and in loan repayments call for notice. The former are dealt with in a subsequent paragraph, while of the latter such portion of the increase as is not due to the natural expansion of the loan transactions between municipalities and the Government is accounted for by the repayments, aggregating Rs. 11,600, made in advance by the municipalities of Kosi and Muzaffarnagar.

Balances.

Hardwar Union... ...	59,322	Muttra	33,024
Agra	57,353	Moradabad	31,089

In the figures for Mussooree, Lucknow, Benares, Allahabad, Fyzabad, Dehra, Agra, Mirzapur and Naini Tal is included the balance of loans received for specific purposes, which in the case of Mussooree amounted to Rs. 3,26,002. In Lucknow and Meerut the balance was swollen by grants received late in the year. In Hardwar as usual it is made up mainly of money belonging to the fairs account. At Deoband the excess is attributed to slow progress with the drainage works. In nearly all other cases the balance is earmarked for works of improvement, chiefly drainage schemes. The balance at Cawnpore is considerably less than that shown last and does not appear to be excessive, and the only board that needs to devise some method of employing the greater part of its surplus funds is Aligarh.

Octroi receipts.

12. The comparative gross and net receipts from octroi in the past two years have been these :—

	Gross. Rs.	Net. Rs.
1905-06	41,93,854	33,88,049
1906-07	42,80,633	34,16,433
	+86,779	+28,384

The harvests on which the year depended were the rabi and the kharif of 1906. The rabi was good in Oudh and Kumaun, it was poor in the districts of Agra and Muttra and in Bundelkhand, and it was fair elsewhere. In the autumn the eastern districts suffered severely from floods, and some damage was done by inopportune rain to the tall willets in the country between Muttra and Bareilly, but otherwise the kharif was exceptionally good. The traffic returns indicate that Meerut, Rohilkhand and Oudh were exporting centres; in Agra, Allahabad and Benares imports exceeded exports and in Benares the excess was very large. But the variations in the municipal revenue cannot easily be co-ordinated with these differences and are generally ascribed to special local causes. Of accessions the largest were in Gorakhpur, Hapur, Agra, Shahjahanpur and Benares. The extraordinary increase of nearly Rs. 20,000 in Gorakhpur is due to the comparative freedom of the city from plague and to a revision of the schedule. Benares had suffered from an exceptional fall in the previous year, and the present increase represents a partial return to normal conditions. Hapur is a town of rising importance; and favourable seasons at Shahjahanpur and the concentration in the winter months at Agra account for the increases in those places. On the other hand the income declined considerably at Bareilly, Hathras, Allahabad, Fyzabad and Lucknow. In 1905-06 the receipts at Allahabad were swollen by the presence of a large number of pilgrims at the Kumbh mela, and in the year under review it is reported that exports increased owing to the large stocks of food grains held by traders at the beginning of the year. Fyzabad and Lucknow attribute their loss to plague, while in Bareilly the administration was admittedly defective. In Hathras, where the board is clearly being defrauded of a considerable portion of its dues, amendment of the special system in force is under consideration. The only division the municipalities of which as a whole show an appreciable decrease is Lucknow.

On a more general view of recent statistics, the striking fact is that in spite of severe calamities, such as the frost of 1905, the octroi income has been expanding year by year, and is now higher by 12 per cent., whether gross or net receipts are considered, than it was in 1903-04. Some enhancement has been secured by revision of the schedules, some undoubtedly by improved administration, but in part it may be hoped that the figures are an indication of increased prosperity.

Through trade and local consumption.

13. The figures of apparent consumption of the more important commodities on which octroi is levied are briefly discussed below.

Grain.—The provincial incidence fell by 5 sers to 6 maunds 37 sers. Of 12 municipalities where the incidence was more than 8 maunds, seven are in Bundelkhand, and in these towns the figures represent no doubt the replenishment of stocks after the scarcity of the previous year. The circumstances of Dehra and Etah are peculiar. The figure in Aligarh has decreased somewhat; probably the recorded figure for Hapur does not correctly represent the consumption of the town, as the population now is considerably in excess of the number shown in the last census; but the large incidence in Etawah, which has been a feature of that municipality for some years, is not altogether satisfactorily explained.

Where, on the other hand, the incidence of grain consumption is low the fact is generally accounted for by the severity of plague or other disease, and in Tilhar it is due to the exemption of wheat from taxation. In Deoband, however, the incidence seems unaccountably low, and in Sandila and Kandhla probably the octroi income would be improved by more thorough supervision.

Sugar.—The average consumption of both refined and unrefined sugar is the same as in the previous year, namely 12 and 17 sers, respectively; or in terms of unrefined sugar an average of 53 sers against the prescribed standard of 33 sers. The difficult question of the revision of the standards is still under consideration: and till this question is decided it is unnecessary to discuss the figures of local variations. It is noteworthy that in Saharanpur, Bahraich and Bareilly the refunds on refined sugar were very high. In Bareilly no less than 77 per cent. of the gross receipts from unrefined sugar was refunded; the board is, therefore, contemplating the substitution for the existing octroi of a direct tax on the traders and a similar policy has been recommended to the Bahraich board. In Fyzabad an octroi on sugar was found to be undesirable and has now been abolished under the orders of the Government, and at Kosi it cannot well be continued unless the present excessive incidence of consumption shows some reduction in future years.

Oil and oilseeds.—The provincial incidence fell from 4 to 3 sers. Either or both of these commodities have been removed from the schedules of two municipalities during the year.

Other articles.—Chiefly owing to high prices the consumption of ghi fell from 6 to 4 sers. The consumption of tobacco shows an increase from 4 to 5 sers. Under this head the variations from year to year in Lalitpur and Mau Ranipur are so large as to be inexplicable. In Khairabad refunds on tobacco during the year were in excess of the receipts, and the board has been advised to readjust the rates on dry and green tobacco: it is possible, however, that the circumstances of this municipality call for the total abolition of octroi taxation. The figures for cloth do not vary much. Shahjahanpur attributes its high incidence to marriages; Gonda to petty suburban purchases, and the circumstances at Bahraich and Partabgarh are exceptional, though Rs. 19-8-0 appears too high a figure for the latter place. The incidence at Nanpara rose from Rs. 11-2-0 to Rs. 14-11-0, and direct taxation has been suggested to the board. A similar suggestion has been made in respect of metals to the municipal board of Bahraich, as the incidence of consumption and the proportion of refunds to gross octroi were alike excessive.

Receipts from taxes other than octroi.

14. Taxes other than octroi yielded an income of Rs. 13,51,154, a sum larger by Rs. 34,710 than in the preceding year. Noticeable decreases occur in the receipts from the tax on professions and trades and the tax on houses and lands. The municipalities of Mussooree and Naini Tal realized more from their house-tax; but the Meerut board raised the minimum liable to taxation, and collections in Cawnpore were defective. As in the previous year the largest accession occurred from the terminal tax and tolls at Cawnpore, which benefited by the brisk trade of the year. Water-rate also shows a rise of Rs. 5,262, which was shared by all the towns provided with water-works with the exception of Agra; and owing partly to increased attendance and partly to improved arrangements for collection Fyzabad realized Rs. 4,928 more from the tax on pilgrims. At Hardwar a smaller fair is responsible for the reduced income from the pilgrim-tax in that municipality. Tolls brought in Rs. 1,544 more than in last year, but the figures for Agra and Mussooree alone call for mention. In Mussooree the increase of Rs. 16,026 is due to good supervision and to the fact that enhanced rates were in force throughout the year; at Agra it has been decided to free the bridges from tolls and, as the lease was given for only seven months, the income fell by Rs. 12,917.

Incidence of taxation.

15. The provincial incidence of taxation was practically stationary, being Re. 1-8-6 against Re. 1-8-3 in the previous year. The same two places show the highest figures. The incidence at Naini Tal rose from Rs. 7-15-9 to Rs. 8-4-0, owing to a general rise in tax receipts which is partly accounted for by improved collection; while the considerable increase in the income obtained from tolls brought the figure for Mussooree up to Rs. 9-9-0.

Receipts from sources other than taxation.

16. The income derived from sources other than taxation and Government grants was somewhat lower than in the previous year. The fall, however, is more than accounted for by the inclusion in the accounts of last year of an item of Rs. 1,04,945 received by the Agra municipality from the Military department as compensation for the initial outlay on works required for the supply of water to the cantonment. With the exception of such abnormals items the principal changes were :—

	Rs.		Rs.
Rents ...	... + 6,490	Markets ...	... −7,983
Sale of land ...	... +62,401	Sale of water ...	... +8,892
Conservancy ...	... +26,937	Registration-fees	... −5,020
Miscellaneous ...	... +18,304

The decrease under markets and registration fees occurred chiefly in Bundelkhand, where the disappearance of famine conditions led to a welcome fall in the fees for cattle slaughtered or sold. In rents there has been a general rise, most noticeable at Benares, Bareilly, Bara Banki and Sitapur; but Cawnpore has reduced its possible receipts from this source by reserving the side of one of the main roads traversed by the tramway for the use of foot-passengers: and in Ghazipur the plague caused a decline in rent-receipts of Rs. 2,726.

The greater portion of the increase under sales of land is accounted for by the realization at Cawnpore of Rs. 44,342 from the sale of plots on each side of a newly-constructed road. The marked increase in the income from conservancy is largely due to the substitution in Farrukhabad of the system of pitting for that of trenching the nightsoil, a change which caused a rise of no less than Rs. 10,674 in the receipts of the municipality.

In most of the towns which possess water-supply systems there was an expansion in the receipts from sale of water, which was most marked in Lucknow; and in Cawnpore, where there was a fall of Rs. 7,209, the cause was bad collections. Miscellaneous receipts rose with the sale of old water-works fittings at Benares, and of materials no longer needed for the Chandausi drainage-works. In Benares also a large sum was received as compensation for certain land which was needed for the extension of a hospital.

Contributions and special grants from Government.

17. Exclusive of Rs. 18,751 received through district boards for the extension of primary education, the special grants made by the Government to municipalities amounted to Rs. 3,57,045. This sum includes Rs. 2,10,000 from the balance of the old patwari rate fund which was made available for this and similar objects by the Government of India. The municipal boards of Dehra and Mirzapur received assistance for the works they had in hand, while at Nagina a grant of Rs. 20,000 enabled the board to make a beginning with the drainage-works. A donation of Rs. 50,000 for surface drains at Benares was justified by the necessitous circumstances of the board. Allahabad and Naini Tal also received grants, mainly for the improvement of conservancy arrrangements. Lucknow was given Rs. 90,000 in all, one-third of which was intended for the establishment of plague camps while the remainder was to be paid as compensation for two village sites, the removal of which was considered necessary on sanitary grounds. A grant of Rs. 23,000 to Meerut was intended for the improvement of certain nazul land in the vicinity of the district offices which had been transferred to the municipal board. In Agra Rs. 27,200 were given for the repair of certain roads damaged by heavy traffic during the visit of His Majesty the Amir, for the extension of the water-supply to Tajganj, and for drainage. Generally the grants were properly spent on the objects for which they had been given, but a few were made too late to permit of their utilization before the end of the year.

The whole police establishment, both of municipalities and of notified areas, has now been taken over by the Government, and municipalities have Rs. 5,04,628 more to spend on sanitary and other improvements. During the year Rs. 1,75,160 were applied to the construction of drains (inclusive of the cost of preparing projects,) and paving of lanes Rs. 1,23,584 to plague, Rs. 95,510 to conservancy reforms, Rs. 27,995 to improvement of wells and other works of a sanitary nature, Rs. 26,255 to loan charges, Rs. 17,138 to police outposts, and Rs. 15,197 to education. Over Rs. 20,000 is reserved by ten towns for future drainage-works and for police outposts, and four places which failed to utilize sums aggregating Rs. 3,344 have been asked to see that the amount of relief is suitably spent in future years.

Loans.

18. All the loans taken by municipalities during the year were borrowed from the Government, and the full amount provided in the estimates was utilized. Several boards, however, failed to expend in full the sums advanced, mainly because applications were received late; and in some instances instalments were apparently asked for before they were actually needed for expenditure. Naini Tal took the remainder of a loan sanctioned in the previous year, and Fyzabad a further advance; while the Chandausi and Mirzapur boards borrowed besides the remainder of the loans of the previous year additional sums of Rs. 20,000 and Rs. 65,000, respectively, to finish off their drainage-projects. Mussooree took another instalment of the loan for its hydro-electric scheme and, in pursuance of its general scheme of hygienic reform, it also contracted a debt of Rs. 40,000 for the drainage of the Kulhri hill and for new slaughter-houses. The Lucknow board, in accordance with the condition on which it had received a grant from the Government, took three lakhs of the loan required to complete the first part of its drainage-works. Almora borrowed Rs. 13,000 to extend its water-supply; and Dehra Rs. 31,000 for a similar object. Pilibhit borrowed Rs. 20,500 for the construction of certain shops—an undertaking which, it is hoped, will yield a good return: and Benares received a part of a loan needed to duplicate the rising main of the water-works. At Agra during the year a commencement was made from loan funds with another main, and an additional filter which had been found to be absolutely essential to enable the municipality to cope with the increasing demand for water: and this board also received a small instalment of a loan to enable it to begin the construction of a free ganj, a work which has been rendered imperative by the development of the city as a railway centre.

Expenditure.

19. The most important variations of expenditure occurred under the following heads:—

	Rs.		Rs.
General administration and collection charges.	+41,951	Plague	+16,026
Lighting	+19,953	Markets	+46,443
Police	—1,09,329	Public works { Establishment	+16,000
Water-supply ...	+3,18,838	Public works { Roads	+22,413
Drainage	—2,39,220	Education	+19,298
Conservancy	+57,111	Contributions	+32,616
		Miscellaneous	—89,861

Charges on account of general administration and collection of taxes increased as paid secretaries were appointed in the smaller places, salaries were revised and new posts were created. At Partabgarh the expenditure includes Rs. 5,205 spent on a bonded warehouse. The continued growth of lighting charges is satisfactory. Reference has been made both in this and in previous resolutions to the hydro-electric scheme for Mussooree which has now made considerable progress, and the Cawnpore board is making arrangements to have some of its principal thoroughfares lighted with electricity. With the extension of electric tramways it is hoped that it will be practicable to make similar arrangements in some of the other cities of the province. In view of the remarks of the Police Commission the subject of lighting has recently been brought to the special notice of boards, various experiments for the discovery of the most suitable form of improvements have been suggested, and the opinion has been expressed by the Government that each board should apply 8 per cent. of its net normal income to lighting. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that boards will not fail during the current year to make a further advance towards the improvement of the illumination of the towns under their administration.

As already observed police establishment charges have been provincialised, and the expenditure under this head is now confined to improvement of the accommodation for the constabulary.

Notwithstanding the fact that in the year 1905-06 large purchases of conservancy plant were made, it is satisfactory to observe that boards were able still further to increase their conservancy expenditure by more than half-a-lakh. The necessity of continued improvement demanded by modern civic requirements and pressed on the boards by the protracted plague epidemics is everywhere recognised, and the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to notice that an honest effort is being made to meet these requirements, although he is compelled to acknowledge with regret that in not a few places, notably Benares, municipal funds are inadequate for the purpose. The largest increase in conservancy charges is found at Lucknow, where it amounts to Rs. 20,394. This was due partly to additions to the establishment and partly to the higher cost of fodder. The Mussooree board also added considerably to the establishment employed during the season, and Allahabad was able, with the aid of a grant, to improve some of its latrines. In part, however, the money needed for conservancy had to be diverted to meet the higher plague charges of the year which were due to vigorous campaigns against rats in several towns and the provision of health camps at Allahabad.

Of public works expenditure there is not much to record and the only work that need specially be mentioned is the meat and vegetable market at Naini Tal with which some advance was made. The expenditure on road repairs would have shown a rise of over a lakh of rupees, but the work was much hampered in places by the failure of the railways to deliver stone in good time : and it was for this reason that in Lucknow an allotment of Rs. 70,000 could not be spent within the year.

The increase under contributions is due to the introduction of a new system at Agra for the division of octroi and wheel-tax receipts between the municipality and the cantonment, and to the payment at Bareilly of some arrears due on account of octroi collections.

Water and drainage-works.

20. The expenditure on water-works amounted to Rs. 9,71,108, of which the eight towns with large installations spent Rs. 9,42,621, or Rs. 3,10,912 more than in the previous year. Full details of the year's work are given in the Sanitary Engineer's 12th annual report. Agra added a new rider main and an additional filter to its works, and Mussooree is rapidly bringing to completion its hydro-electric scheme. The Benares board began the duplication of its rising main and must now take steps to provide another engine, though it can ill afford the expenditure. Lucknow hopes in the current year to be able to improve on its existing installation, while for Allahabad the difficulty of providing for all requirements has been overcome in part by the decision of the Government to provide by a separate system unfiltered water for the public and other gardens.

Almora and Dehra also have taken steps to make additions to their works to cope with the increasing demand, and projects are under consideration in Mirzapur, Jhansi and Najibabad. In Sambhal analyses of the well-water proved satisfactory, pollution of the sub-soil will be prevented by improved drainage and the water-works project has been dropped.

On sewerage and drainage-works the total outlay was Rs. 8,57,989, or Rs. 2,39,220 less than in the previous year. The eight towns possessing large water-works installations are responsible for all but Rs. 25,656 of the decrease; but at Cawnpore and Agra the expenditure of the year 1905-06 was due to special causes and Benares, by reason of its straitened circumstances, was unable to do much during the year towards extending its surface drainage. Meerut did some good work in re-lining the Ganda nala; but the only considerable expenditure was incurred in Lucknow, where a sum of over 2½ lakhs was expended during the year, and the first portion of a comprehensive project was completed. The remaining portions are estimated to cost about 18½ lakhs. This is a large figure, but there seems to be good ground for hope that suitable measures can be devised for the immediate execution of the most important sections. Of the 4 lakhs spent in other places the most important items were in Chandausi (Rs. 99,786), Mirzapur (Rs. 77,511), Fyzabad (Rs. 43,873) and Nagina (Rs. 24,844). In the first two places the works are nearly finished and Nagina has succeeded in expending the Government grant; but at Fyzabad progress was again far from satisfactory, and it seems clear that in this matter the board has not adequately realized the need of supervision over its Engineers. The Deoband scheme, too, has been unduly protracted.

Projects are either ready or nearly ready for Azamgarh, Bahraich, Brindaban, Budaun, Fatehpur, Ghazipur, Gorakhpur, Hathras, Hapur, Jaunpur, Moradabad, Muttra, Saharanpur and Ujhani. In each case the cost of the complete scheme is large, and with the resources available it is out of the question that the whole should be carried out at once. It is, therefore, intended to deal first with the more important and congested portions of each town, and of the places named at least half will probably begin operations at an early date. In addition drainage surveys are in progress in Amroha, Etawah, Mainpuri and Sambhal, and several other towns are awaiting a suitable occasion for giving effect to the general demand and need for improved drainage. It is estimated that in all about half of the municipalities of the province will soon either have completed the drainage of their towns or will have schemes in train. Hitherto the work has been hampered by the inability of the Sanitary Engineer's department to cope with the preparation of all the schemes required, but now that an Assistant Sanitary Engineer has been appointed it is hoped that progress will be more rapid.

With the extension of drainage works the question of the disposal of matter brought down by the drains has naturally come to the front, especially in Lucknow, where pollution of the river was feared. The greatest interest attaches, therefore, to the experiments now being conducted at Lucknow with a view to rendering the effluent innocuous. These experiments promise well, and if successful they will not only save the municipality particularly concerned from an enormous expenditure on an intercepting sewer, but they will be an important contribution to the general question of sewage disposal.

Education.

21. The total expenditure incurred by boards aggregated Rs. 3,07,784, and was in excess of the amount spent in the previous year by Rs. 19,298. It was, however, only 4·9 per cent. of the net income and fell short, therefore, of the minimum of 5 per cent. which has been laid down in the rules that have recently been published. This expenditure includes the Rs. 18,751, which was paid to municipalities through district boards as their share of the six lakhs grant for the promotion of primary education. With the exception of Chandpur all the boards which last year failed to spend in full the portion of this grant allotted to them have during the year utilized the savings on the purposes for which the grant was intended. The total number of schools managed and aided by municipal boards rose by 40, and the attendance of the year was 60,099 against 58,823 in the year 1905-06. The increased expenditure has been devoted generally to the advance of primary education. It is satisfactory to observe that girls' schools, aided and managed, show a further rise in numbers from 116 to 124. Actually 10 new girls' schools were brought on to the lists, but Cawnpore ceased to maintain a school, and at Pilibhit an aided institution was closed for want of attendance.

An important question for the consideration of boards in manufacturing centres is the provision of educational facilities for the children employed in factories. This subject has been brought into prominence by the industrial conference recently held at Naini Tal, and though the boards concerned have so far failed to take any definite steps to ascertain their requirements in the matter the Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that it will now receive their serious attention.

The new rules to which allusion has been made define, so far as boys' schools are concerned, the duties of municipal boards to educational matters. They assign to boards their proper rôle in the promotion of primary education, and, save in exceptional circumstances, the management of secondary schools to district boards. Municipal boards are permitted however, should they so desire, to arrange with district boards for the management of the primary schools on contributing towards their maintenance an amount to be fixed by a joint committee of the boards concerned. The working of these rules will be dealt with in the reports of the current year.

Investments.

22. During the year the municipal boards of Moradabad and Muttra invested Rs. 17,900 and Rs. 10,000, respectively, to meet expenditure on contemplated drainage-projects; while the investments of Rs. 15,000 and Rs. 2,200 made by the Jhansi and Najibabad boards are intended to be utilized later for the improvement of the water-supply of those places. The municipal board of Kunch had unexpected accessions of income from slaughter-house receipts and fees for the registration of cattle sales during the period of scarcity, and since there were no matured projects on which this surplus income could be suitably expended, the board, as a temporary expedient, bought securities worth Rs. 10,000. The Jalesar board also purchased a Government promissory note of Rs. 1,000 from its available funds. The proceeds of invested funds sold by the municipal boards of Deoband, Farrukhabad and Mirzapur were required for use on drainage-works, and the Kosi board disposed of a Government promissory note of Rs. 1,000 in order to enable it to repay a portion of the loan which it holds from the Government.

Finances of indebted municipalities.

23. A brief account of the financial condition of each municipality which is in debt to the Government is given below, in accordance with the letter of the Government of India no. 138, dated the 16th August 1898.

Agra.—The financial position has been a cause of some anxiety to the board, as during the year the ordinary income was about Rs. 9,000 less than the ordinary expenditure, and the board will lose some Rs. 19,000 per annum through the abolition of tolls on the railway and pontoon bridges. The liabilities of the board also have been augmented by a loan of Rs. 1,31,000 for additions to the water-works and by the receipt of a portion of the loan for the construction of a free ganj. On the other hand the revision of the water-rate now being undertaken is expected to raise the annual income of the board by Rs. 20,000, receipts from the sale of water should show some expansion and the Government has undertaken, on certain conditions, to make to the board in future years an annual subvention of Rs. 15,000 to compensate in some measure for the loss of tolls. Taking into account the relief from plague charges it is expected that the normal income should be sufficient for requirements, and with the exercise of careful economy the board should have no difficulty in meeting its present and prospective liabilities.

Allahabad.—The income was well maintained, and as expenditure fell short of the estimate by some Rs. 67,000 the balance in hand, exclusive of loans, rose to the high figure of Rs. 1,25,970. The decision of the Government also to carry out its own scheme for providing unfiltered water has removed the necessity for adding to the municipal installation: and the board, to become part owners in the new project, will need only to take a small loan of Rs. 40,000. At the same time the expenditure on necessary objects, especially education and lighting, has hitherto been insufficient. A loan of two lakhs will shortly be given to the municipality with which to begin the much-needed drainage-scheme, and when repayments on account of this loan commence the margin between income and expenditure will probably be no more than enough to provide for increased charges under ordinary heads. While, therefore, a continued expansion of revenue may be hoped for there will be difficulty in providing, within a reasonable time, the very large sums of money that will be required if the scheme of drainage now projected is to be carried out in its entirety.

Almora.—During the year the board's debt was increased to Rs. 18,000 by a further loan of Rs. 13,000 to improve the water-supply. There is, however, a sufficient annual surplus to cover the payments falling due on this account.

Ballia.—The financial position continues satisfactory and the board will probably find no difficulty in discharging its loan, though it requires to make provision for the systematic drainage of the new town.

Bareilly.—Revenue is expanding and though the board's expenditure was liberal the year closed with a balance of Rs. 47,495. It seems probable that a systematic and comprehensive drainage-scheme will be required in the near future : but the financial position is perfectly stable.

Benares.—The income, if not elastic, is steady and well collected, and the real balance has been increased during the year ; but the margin between ordinary income and expenditure is small, and the future demands on the board's resources are enormous. Though much has already been accomplished, the cost of completing the drainage of the city is estimated at no less than 22 lakhs. In addition the board are now face to face with the urgent necessity of providing new pumping engines at a cost of some three lakhs. The Government of India have been asked to sanction the re-imposition of a visitors' tax.

Cawnpore.—Terminal taxes again showed a large rise, but of other taxes considerable amounts remained uncollected at the end of the year. If abnormal items are excluded from both sides of the account, it appears that the income of the year fell short of the expenditure by Rs. 11,000. This figure is practically covered by the amount of plague charges, of which in future the municipality will be relieved : on the other hand impending extensions of the water-works and the need of greater outlay on education will throw additional burdens on the board's resources. The financial position of the municipality cannot, therefore, at present be regarded as sound, and the board has been advised to pay more attention to the collection of its revenue.

Chandausi.—In addition to the remaining instalments of the first loan of one lakh the board contracted a further debt of Rs. 20,000 to finish off its drainage-works. These are nearly completed at a total cost of about Rs. 1,67,000. There is no reason to believe that the municipality will be unable to meet the loan charges, but the financial position requires careful examination and fresh sources of taxation may need to be tapped.

Dehra.—The board have now taken a loan of Rs. 31,000 to improve the water-works, the Government providing a small subsidy for the same purpose. Its financial condition is quite stable, and it will without difficulty meet the loan charges.

Fyzabad.—The increased receipts from the tax on pilgrims only balanced an equal fall under octroi, and the income remained practically stationary. The financial position however is satisfactory, and the board should experience little difficulty in meeting charges on loans required for its drainage-project.

Kashipur.—The financial position continues perfectly stable.

Kosi.—The income rose considerably owing to the receipts from octroi on sugar, and although it is possible that in the near future some substitute may have to be found for this tax the financial position is perfectly sound. During the year the board credited Rs. 1,600 in excess of the regular instalments towards the repayment of the loan.

Lucknow.—The financial position continues satisfactory for the present. Octroi income fell off, but the decrease was more than balanced by larger receipts from the sale of water to the cantonment. The income from conservancy also shows a satisfactory rise, and there was a large closing balance, due in part to unexpended allotments and to the receipt of grants aggregating Rs. 90,000 at the end of the year. The question of providing for further drainage requirements is now under consideration. The resources of the municipality are not exhausted ; but the grant of further loans, even for the more urgent works, will necessitate the observance of the strictest economy.

Meerut.—The financial position continues to be strong and the year closed with a balance of Rs. 53,578, exclusive of an unspent grant of Rs. 23,000.

Mirzapur.—The total debt at present amounts to Rs. 2,65,000, a further loan of Rs. 65,000 having been given to enable the board to complete the drainage-works. These have been carried out with great economy, but the normal figures of income and expenditure, even if allowance is made for relief from plague charges, point to an annual deficit of Rs. 11,000, and before the scheme of water-supply now contemplated by the board is undertaken, the financial position will require very careful scrutiny.

Mussooree.—The loan obligations of the municipality increased by Rs. 3,40,000 during the year; but the ordinary income showed some expansion, tolls alone bringing in about Rs. 16,000 above the figure of the previous year. This and other sources of receipts are capable of yielding still more, and, as it is likely that at no very distant date income will be derived both from the sale of electricity and from a water-rate, the financial position of the municipality should be perfectly sound.

Muzaffarnagar.—During the year the board paid a sum of Rs. 10,000 in addition to the ordinary instalments towards the liquidation of its loan; and even with this charge the year closed with a large balance. This result was mainly due to the inadequate outlay on public works, but the financial position is perfectly stable.

Naini Tal.—The remaining instalment of the loan for the construction of a meat market was taken during the year. Taxes, however, showed some increase, and the market will probably bring in a satisfactory return. The financial position is on the whole satisfactory, although during the year the Government found it advisable to make a contribution to the municipality to enable it to carry out some urgent sanitary reforms including the construction of a bazar latrine.

Pilibhit.—The municipal board contracted a small debt of Rs. 20,500 to reconstruct certain shops in Drummondganj which had been destroyed by fire in April 1906. The object of the loan is itself remunerative, and the income of the board should suffice both for its ordinary requirements and for the repayment of the loan.

Vaccination.

24. The number of successful primary vaccinations fell from 104,409 to 97,172, and the proportion of persons successfully vaccinated per mille of the population from 35·84 to 32·49. In a large number of municipalities the work has been noted as unsatisfactory or even discreditable. A contributing factor to this result was, no doubt, the unhealthiness of the season, but it is clear that many boards do not devote sufficient attention to this branch of their duties: and indeed, from the remarks made in the Meerut, Najibabad and other reports, it appears that they are not always even cognisant of their responsibilities. Under the Vaccination Act, 1880, and the rules made thereunder, the responsibility for intra-municipal vaccination work is vested entirely in the municipal boards; sustained supervision and the exercise of personal influence by members of boards, rather than recourse to the penal provisions of the law, are essential, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that every effort will now be made to secur better work.

Vital statistics.

25. The mortality returns show lamentable results. The year was exceptionally unhealthy and the number of deaths rose from 144,666 to 172,375. There was a slight increase in the number of births—from 120,160 to 121,548—but the excess of deaths over births which has been a feature of the returns since the last census is very marked. In the last three years this excess amounts to no less than 113,777. In thirty municipalities the death-rate was more than 60 per mille of the population. To take a few of the more striking examples it was 145 and 140 in Nagina and Mawana, 77 in Cawnpore and Chandausi, and over 60 in Lucknow, Benares and Fyzabad; in Cawnpore, where the mortality has been very high for some years, the board has been advised to hold a special inquiry into the matter. These results are no doubt abnormal. Plague was severe in many places. Fever was peculiarly fatal after the heavy rains in the Bijnor district as well as in Bundelkhand, where the people, weakened by famine, fell easy victims to malaria, and cholera claimed many victims. But the figures are striking and must bring home to every one the urgent necessity of doing everything that is possible to improve the sanitation of our municipalities.

The registration of vital statistics was, on the whole, satisfactory; but the work at Bahraich is open to doubt, and birth-registration at Balrampur, though better than in the previous year, is still defective.

General results.

26. But for the distressing figures of mortality the Lieutenant-Governor would look back with satisfaction on the results of the year. Seasons were prosperous, and the municipal income showed a gratifying power of expansion. In part at least this expansion may safely be attributed to increased efficiency. The Examiner of Local Fund Accounts reports that the accounts of municipalities show further improvement, and in the reviews of their reports deficiencies were noticed in respect of eleven boards only. In a few cases embezzlements occurred, but generally the defects were not of a serious nature. It is made clear also that more attention is being devoted to octroi administration, and in six places only did the work or statistics call for special comment. At the same time the results of the year indicate that octroi is unsuitable to the conditions of towns such as Chandpur and Khairabad; in Sitapur its supersession in favour of direct taxation has been recommended to the board and, generally, the Lieutenant-Governor would be pleased to see its scope restricted to the narrowest practicable limits.

In the department of sanitation the boards have been active. The necessities of the situation have indeed been brought home to them by the excessive mortality in their towns and cities, particularly by the visitations of plague: and this pestilence they have endeavoured to meet by direct methods and indirect. Of the direct measures may be mentioned segregation and disinfection, both of which received due attention. In some cases also, as for example in Ghazipur, considerable success was attained in popularizing inoculation, and the Lieutenant-Governor has already expressed his hope that members will individually exert themselves to help on a form of prevention to which he attaches the greatest importance. The number of rats destroyed in municipalities has doubled, and if indiscriminate destruction counts for little, it is true also that definite schemes have been thought out which show every promise of being successful. In this connection the work done in Azamgarh, Bareilly, Budaun, Fatehpur and Ghazipur deserves special mention, and other municipalities might well inquire into the methods which have there been adopted. But these are all temporary expedients, and in combating the disease it is necessary to call in the aid of greater cleanliness and general improvement of sanitation. That this fact is fully recognised is shown by the figures of expenditure contained in this resolution. Conservancy has received proper attention, and there is a continued expansion of drainage schemes, of water-works and other sanitary improvements. In addition the necessity of opening out the congested areas of the larger towns has engaged and is engaging the attention of the Local Government: a beginning has been made in Cawnpore, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes to see in the near future an extension of similar improvements. The difficulty in all these matters is a financial one: the needs of the boards are great, and the further resources on which they can draw are scanty. Much has already been done to assist them. The relief from police charges has already been noticed: in addition the Lieutenant-Governor has recently decided, with the concurrence of the Government of India, to relieve them of all direct charges on account of plague. In this manner they will have at their disposal a sum of at least 1¼ lakh for sanitary improvements, and he will do all in his power from time to time to give them further assistance.

That there are defects—and sometimes grave defects—in municipal administration is inevitable. Where this is the case it is for the Government and the boards to work out together a suitable remedy. But on the whole a retrospect of the year's work indicates that municipal boards have discharged their duties with efficiency and success. In particular the circumstance to be noticed is that a large number of members in different boards have been commended for their active co-operation, and that with scarcely an exception the working of the boards has been harmonious. The Lieutenant-Governor welcomes all such proofs of public spirit, and he regards them as the growing justification of municipal self-government.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions for information and communication to the chairmen of municipal boards.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the United Provinces Government Gazette for general information.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

R. W. GILLAN,

Secretary to Government, United Provinces.

REPORT

ON

IN THE

FOR THE YEAR 1907-08.

No. 4154/XI—524D. OF 1908.

RESOLUTION.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Dated Allahabad, the 30th November 1908.

READ—

The reports submitted by municipal boards and committees of notified areas upon their administration and finances during the year 1907-08, with the Commissioners' reviews thereon and the orders passed by the Government.

Read also—

This Government's (Municipal department) resolution no. 3523/XI—524D., dated the 28th November 1907, on the municipal administration for the year 1906-07.

OBSERVATIONS.—This resolution relates primarily to municipalities, but a statement is published showing the year's transactions of notified areas, the reports of which are dealt with by Commissioners. The working of these areas, the number of which was increased by the addition of some towns previously administered under Act XX of 1856 from 17 to 28, was generally satisfactory.

Number of municipalities.

2. There was no change in the number of municipalities and practically no change in the municipal population.

Elections.

3. Eighty-seven towns out of the total of 89 continue to possess the privilege of electing members to represent them on the municipal boards, the number of electors being 74,318 or 2·4 per cent. of the population.

In the polls which were held in 49 municipalities, as compared with 62 in the preceding year, more interest appears to have been taken as 49·5 per cent. of the qualified electors came forward to vote; in Cawnpore, in particular, where municipal affairs have hitherto by no means received the popular attention which they deserve, there has been a striking improvement, which synchronizes with the improved arrangements that were made for the more orderly conduct of elections. There is reason in fact to believe that the apathy of the public, which has hitherto been evident in many places, is due in part to defects in the election procedure; the Government is taking steps to apply a remedy by drawing up revised rules to regulate elections, and in particular to ensure the unbiassed preparation of voters' lists and the secrecy of the ballot, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that he will have the necessary support of municipal members and all who are concerned with the working of elections in his endeavours to increase the reality of local self-government.

Chairmen.

4. During the year there was no change in the status of the chairmen of municipal boards; but an important question regarding the chairmanship of some of the larger municipalities came under consideration. This question has been brought into prominence by the fact that in certain places it is becoming increasingly difficult, if not impossible, for a single officer to discharge the heavy duties of a district officer and at the same time supervise the affairs of a large municipality, and it can scarcely be doubted that the appointment of separate paid chairmen for the boards of Allahabad and Cawnpore which has now been decided on will benefit the administration of those municipalities.

Meeting and attendance of members.

5. The number of meetings held by the boards was 1,955, an average of 22 for each board or practically the same as in the previous year.

Generally members were fairly regular in their attendance, the average attendance at each meeting being 50 per cent. or less in 13 municipalities only, but there are cases, of which Jaunpur, Dhampur and Bisalpur may specially be mentioned, in which the poor attendance of many of the members of the board indicates a deplorable lack of interest in municipal affairs. In such cases the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that an improvement will be shown in next year's returns.

Revision of octroi and new taxes.

6. As in the previous year, proposals for the modification of taxation in municipalities were few and unimportant. The municipalities of Roorkee and Bijnor revised their octroi schedules; the tax on sugar stuffs was removed in Fyzabad. The Meerut board abolished the tax on tobacco growers, the proceeds of which were inconsiderable, and the only new impost made during the year was a tax on weighmen at Najibabad.

Rules.

7. The number of rules published during the year also shows a reduction. As in the preceding year, revision affected chiefly the rules regulating the provident fund of municipal employés; over fifty boards in all took steps to bring these rules into line with the model rules on the subject, and of these twenty made provision for the grant of a bonus on the completion of varying periods of approved service.

Other rules published in the year dealt mainly with the regulation of slaughter-houses, the sale of meat, tehbazari, the registration of births and deaths and the regulation of weighmen. In ten towns rules for the regulation of hackney carriages were either recast or amended, while measures were taken by the Allahabad board to regulate motor vehicles, and the election rules of the Ballia municipality were revised.

The necessity of introducing regulations to control lodging-houses for pilgrims in Fyzabad led to the application of the United Provinces Lodging House Act, 1892, to that municipality; and the United Provinces Sewerage and Drainage Act, 1894, was extended to a part of the Mussooree municipality in which it was intended to construct drains. In view of the formation of a fire brigade in the Lucknow municipality, chapter IX of the United Provinces Municipalities Act, 1900, was made applicable to the area included within the municipal limits.

Revision of boundaries.

8. In Mainpuri a revision of the municipal boundaries was necessitated by the advent of a new railway line and the opening of some industrial concerns just outside the former municipal limits.

Accounts.

9. The accounts of the year show an increase of income exclusive of special grants and extraordinary receipts, of Rs. 3,33,887, and an increase of expenditure, under ordinary service heads, of Rs. 4,49,074; these figures are explained at length in succeeding paragraphs. Repayments of principal in loan accounts rose from Rs. 2,84,432 to Rs. 2,98,269 as a result of normal expansion and partly because the Muzaffarnagar and Kosi boards were permitted to make repayments in advance of the regular instalments during the year, but no investments were made and on the whole there was a decrease of expenditure under the head "Extraordinary and Debt" excluding deposits of Rs. 32,637.

10. The following municipalities had closing balances in excess of Rs. 30,000 :— Balances.

	Rs.		Rs.
Lucknow	1,57,763	Hapur	56,711
Saharanpur	1,28,212	Hathras	55,923
Hardwar Union... ...	92,610	Bareilly	45,638
Allahabad	84,317	Fyzabad	44,318
Meerut	75,803	Dehra	43,741
Koil (Aligarh)	65,035	Etawah	38,784
Benares	62,800	Khurja	37,587
Mussooree	61,792	Jhansi	33,504
Jaunpur	58,836	Agra	33,378
Cawnpore	58,557	Chandausi	31,459
Shahjahanpur ...		... Rs. 31,335

The figures for Lucknow, Allahabad, Benares, Mussooree, Jaunpur, Fyzabad and Agra include the balance of loans granted for specific purposes, the amounts being largest in Jaunpur, Rs. 50,000 and in Mussooree, Rs. 43,095. The greater part of the balance at the disposal of the Lucknow board is earmarked for the Aminabad park and market and for other important works : and in nearly all other cases the excess will be utilised in drainage and other schemes already outlined which are likely to absorb a considerable sum of money. The only exceptions are Koil (Aligarh) and Chandausi, and in Chandausi the large balance appears to be the result of a temporary accumulation of grain under abnormal conditions and will probably be reduced by large refunds during the current year. In Aligarh also the balance is in part accounted for by the excess of the income actually received over the estimate, but the sanitary requirements of the town are large, and the board has been urged to use its surplus in satisfying them.

11. The most remarkable feature in the income of the year is the large increase in octroi which is shown in the following figures :— Octroi receipts.

	Gross.	Net.
	Rs.	Rs.
1906-07	42,80,633	34,16,433
1907-08	44,82,433	36,01,568
	+ 2,01,800	+ 1,85,135

The bulk of the increase was secured under grain, the net octroi from which rose by Rs. 1,37,080 ; and so far as this addition is concerned the municipalities appear to have gained at the expense of their neighbours. From the Bundelkhand towns, where grain had accumulated as a result of the bumper harvest of juar and smaller grains in the autumn of 1906-07, there was a considerable export in the early part of the year. But as a rule the experience of the year was that towns which ordinarily collect grain from the neighbourhood and export it, became for the time importing centres, distributing grain to the surrounding villages where it was no longer procurable ; the imports were in bulk and paid octroi, while much of it went out again in small quantities on which refunds were not given, and in this way the municipalities undoubtedly gained considerable sums to which they were not entitled. It was another result no doubt of scarcity that the octroi from animals for slaughter rose by Rs. 10,972. But it might naturally have been supposed that under other heads the result of the famine conditions which prevailed for half the year would have been a decrease, and the remarkable fact is that excluding grain and animals for slaughter there was not a decrease but a small increase of over Rs. 37,000. There was some falling off under tobacco ; the octroi from cloth also—an article the consumption of which was likely to be affected—was slightly lower than in the previous year, but the decrease was only about one-half per cent. and the income was considerably higher than in 1904-05 or 1905-06. The only substantial decline (Rs. 18,900) is found in the articles apart from grain which are included in class I—ghi, sugar, etc., and a large part of this decline is accounted for by the removal of the tax on saccharine substances in Fyzabad. In the octroi from classes III, IV, V and VIII (fuel, building materials, drugs, gums and spices and metals) there was an increase. Nor is it the case that there has been a decrease in famine divisions which is concealed in the total by large increases in the more prosperous portions of the province. There was in fact an increase in every division except Fyzabad and Gorakhpur; in Fyzabad there would have been an increase but for the abolition of octroi on sugar in the headquarters town, and in Gorakhpur where the income of 1906-07 was possibly abnormal, the receipts were still high above the receipts of 1905-06. The returns, further, have been compiled by half years for the six largest towns and for representative country municipalities and it is surprising to find that excluding grain and animals for slaughter the net octroi on all other classes, the aggregate of which may be taken as an index of the consumption of luxuries was actually higher in the period October—March 1907-08, than in the corresponding period of either of the two preceeding years.

The peculiarity of these results is accentuated if they are compared with the effects on municipal revenues of the famine of 1896-97. The figures of net octroi are as follows :—

	Rs.		Rs.
1893-94	26,33,650	1904-05	32,09,669
1894-95	27,73,166	1905-06	33,88,049
1895-96	27,36,152	1906-07	34,16,433
1896-97	23,11,282	1907-08	36,01,568

Thus in 1896-97 there was a decrease of no less than $4\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs. The effect of scarcity in converting towns from collecting into distributing centres had been observed in 1894-95 when there was an unprecedented import of grain from the Punjab, but this effect was not noticed in the famine year of 1896-97; on the contrary the octroi from grain was Rs. 1,09,627 lower in that year than in 1895-96. Under heads other than grain also there was a net loss of Rs. 3,15,243; the octroi from animals for slaughter increased, but fuel, building materials, drugs, cloth and metal all showed substantial or large decreases and the drop was ascribed to famine and nothing else. "The high prices of food grains and consequent contraction of consumption," it was said, "caused the decrease in receipt under class I" and under other classes, "the figures afford some indication of the extent to which the urban population were obliged by the prevailing stress to restrict their expenditure." It is not easy to account for the very different results of the year under review. A partial explanation is no doubt to be found in the fact that during the latter part of that year the province was more free from plague than has been the case at that season for several years; and as the losses which occurred in consequence of the evacuation of towns had been large in some cases it may be that a considerable improvement on account of diminished plague has to be set against the falling off that might naturally have been assumed to be the result of scarcity; the year was also an auspicious one for marriages and is followed by a long period during which the auspices will not be favourable. But these causes would scarcely be sufficient to turn a very large minus—on the basis of the figures of 1896-97—into a very considerable plus, and it appears certain that the striking divergence in results which have been noticed must in the main be ascribed to differences in the character of the two famines. These differences were, first that before famine came considerable areas were much more prosperous in 1907 than in 1896, but, secondly, that the autumn crop of 1907 was materially worse than the autumn crop of 1896. These are the conclusions to be drawn from the facts exhibited in the Famine resolution issued by this Government and they explain and at the same time are confirmed by the octroi returns. The following figures are remarkable :—

	Average kharif outturn per district in terms of a normal (100).		Net octroi on all classes excluding grain and animals for slaughter in terms of the average taken as 100 of the two preceding years.
	1896.	1907.	1896-07.	1907-08.
Meerut division ...	69	41	94	104
Agra division ...	48	46	90	102
Rohilkhand division ...	50	38	85	100
Allahabad division ...	36	23	50	109
Benares division ...	36	48	92	106
Gorakhpur division ...	33	47	101	112
Lucknow division ...	39	26	88	99
Fyzabad division ...	41	19	82	85

The loss of grain in the autumn harvest of 1907 was computed to be 4 million tons, or two-thirds of a million tons more than in 1896, and the trade returns show net imports into the province in 1907-08 of 754,000 tons as compared with net imports in 1896-07 of only 500,000 tons. These figures explain no doubt the increase in grain octroi, and the net result under other heads can be explained only as an indication—and a very gratifying indication—of the improved condition of the people.

Through trade and local consumption.

12. Some of the figures of apparent consumption of the more important commodities on which octroi is levied are briefly discussed below :—

Grain.—Owing to famine conditions imports of wheat were largely checked, the place of that grain being taken to a large extent by rice imported from other parts of India and from Burma, but the prominent feature in nearly all the returns is the enormous increase in the imports of the lesser grains. In consequence of this both the gross and the net imports of grain rose by about 33 lakhs of maunds and the provincial incidence of consumption rose from 6 maunds, 32 seers to 7 maunds 36 seers. In no less than 27 towns the incidence was 8 maunds or more : in Tilhar it rose to 16 maunds 11 seers, and in Dhampur and Chandausi to nearly 18 maunds. It will be clear however from the preceding paragraph that the figures are no indication of the real consumption.

Sugar.—While the incidence of refined sugar rose by 1 seer to 13 sers, the incidence of unrefined sugar fell from 17 to 16 seers, so that in terms of unrefined sugar the provincial incidence of the year under review was 55 seers. The variation may be due to the fact noted by the Director of Land Records and Agriculture that after November the price of unrefined sugar was extraordinarily high, considering the low prices of imported sugar ; but, apart from Fyzabad where sugar was removed from the schedule, the changes were very slight except in Rohilkhand where the consumption of unrefined sugar fell from 19 to 11 seers. A decision regarding the substitution of direct taxation for octroi on sugar which has been suggested in several municipalities is deferred pending the examination of the general question by the Committee on Municipal Taxation and should octroi be retained the revision of the standard of consumption will also no doubt be considered.

Other articles.—It is remarkable that in spite of famine the incidence of ghi rose by 1 seer. The consumption of tobacco on the other hand which is 4 seers shows a decrease of 1 seer. There is reason to suppose that in some municipalities a good deal of tobacco is imported without paying duty ; at the same time in other cases, the incidence is extraordinarily high. In Mau Ranipur for instance it was 14 seers and in Kunch 17 seers. At Kunch it is said to have been raised by the opening of famine camps in the neighbourhood, but it has always been high in this town.

There was a reduced consumption of cloth, the provincial incidence falling from Rs. 9-15 to Rs. 9-9; but generally as will appear from paragraph 11 scarcity seems to have had little effect on sales. The returns from Jhansi are interesting: the town possesses a prosperous shop worked on "Swadeshi" lines and the feature of the year there was the displacement of foreign by native cloth. In Moradabad refunds have not been given on exports of native cloth, but this defect will be remedied as soon as possible. The suggestion that the octroi duty on cloth levied by the Nanpara board should be set aside in favour of a tax on the trade has been deferred pending the general examination of the subject of municipal taxation; and for a similar reason the proposals to this end in respect of the duty on metals at Bahraich are being held over.

Receipts from taxes other than octroi.

13. There was a satisfactory expansion of Rs. 57,881 in the income derived from taxes other than octroi. The largest increase—Rs. 29,197—is again found in the receipts from the terminal tax and toll, and is due in all probability to the movement of grain caused by the prevalence of famine conditions. The receipts from house tax and from the tax on professions and trades rose by Rs. 20,409 and Rs. 3,327, but the bulk of these increases is accounted for by the collection of arrears in Cawnpore where the outstandings at the end of the previous year were heavy, and similarly an addition of Rs. 4,229 under water rate is due mainly to the collection of arrears at Agra. At Fyzabad there was a drop of Rs. 11,097 in the receipts from the pilgrim tax which is accounted for by the influence of plague and of scarcity, but the decrease was more than balanced by the larger income from this source at Hardwar where during the year under review the railway administration made payments on account of the receipts of thirteen months.

The freeing of the Agra bridges from tolls resulted in a decline in the receipts under this head despite a considerable improvement in Mussoorée.

Incidence of taxation.

14. As a result of the additions to income explained in the previous paragraphs the provincial incidence of taxation rose from Re. 1-8-6 to Re. 1-9-9. The incidence for Naini Tal (Rs. 8-3-6) has been practically stationary, but for Mussooree in consequence of the larger income derived from tolls and house tax it has risen from Rs. 9-9 to Rs. 9-14.

Receipts from sources other than taxation.

15. The income derived from sources other than taxation was lower by Rs. 2,68,790 than in the previous year; but if special grants are eliminated from the accounts of both years there was a real increase under this head of Rs. 90,871. In detail there were large variations, the most important of which are the following :—

	Rs.		Rs.
Realization from special Acts	+ 10,842	Receipts from educational institutions	− 17,518
Rents	− 14,027	Markets	+ 5,715
Sale of land	− 24,155	Sale of water	+ 38,349
Conservancy receipts ...	+ 3,303

	Rs.
Other items	+ 8,828

The decrease in the case of fees and other receipts from educational institutions is due entirely to changes in the management of schools, a matter which is alluded to in a subsequent paragraph. The drop in sale proceeds of lands and houses is fortuitous, as the figure of the previous year included abnormal receipts at Cawnpore. The effects of scarcity are visible in the realizations from special Acts, the receipts from fines under the Cattle Trespass Act having naturally risen, in the income from markets, which include slaughter-houses, and in the drop in rents. The increase under the first head however was contributed to by higher receipts from hackney carriage fees the licensing of which received more attention, and half of the fall in rents is accounted for by the reservation of part of a road for foot paths and the fact that improvements were being undertaken in two markets in Cawnpore. The increase under "other items" is due apparently to the introduction in Saharanpur of a new system under which night-soil is bought from private sweepers, and sold to cultivators, the prices paid and obtained being separately debited and credited in the municipal accounts. There was a marked improvement in conservancy receipts in some places and the increase over the province as a whole would have been considerable, had the failure of the rains not led to a restriction of demand for deodorized night-soil at Bareilly, where the receipts fell by Rs. 5,931, and at other places. In many cases, however, the development of the income from this source has not received sufficient attention. Boards seem to be under the impression that there is only one method of disposing of night-soil, and they have been invited therefore to consider when necessary which of the various methods which are really available should be adopted as being most suitable to their requirements.

The continued expansion in the receipts from the sale of water is satisfactory, but the great bulk of the increase occurred at Cawnpore and Agra. In Cawnpore where the receipts were doubled, the increase (Rs. 26,918) is accounted for mainly by extended connections and a greater demand for water on the part of the mills, but there were large collections also of arrears. The expansion of Rs. 10,152 at Agra is due almost entirely to the increased quantity of water used by the railway and by the cantonment.

Contributions and special grants from Government.

16. Municipal boards received through district boards a share of the six lakhs grant for the extension of primary education, but as this share was generally not paid direct, but was merely taken into account in determining the financial arrangements for education as between district and municipal boards it does not appear in the accounts. The contributions made by the Government were only Rs. 1,11,825 as compared with Rs. 4,23,906, but the amount distributed in the previous year included a large sum from the balance of the old patwari rate fund, and in the year under review the state of the provincial finances made it necessary to cut down the subventions to a minimum. Thus the contribution figure of 1907-08 includes only the old recurring grants which under various arrangements are paid every year, a new recurring grant of Rs. 15,000, which was given to the municipal board of Agra to compensate it for the loss in tolls formerly received from the pontoon and railway bridges and a payment of Rs. 17,376 to Lucknow which was merely an adjustment making good to that board the plague expenditure which it had incurred on provincial account.

The police establishment of the towns which were newly constituted notified areas was taken over by the Government, at an annual cost of Rs. 7,207 ; and municipal boards, continued as a result of the provincialization of police charges to have Rs. 5,04,628 more to spend on sanitary and other improvements. Of this sum Rs. 1,40,150 were applied to the construction of drains (including the cost of preparing projects) and to the paving of lanes, Rs. 1,25,919 to conservancy reforms, Rs. 73,009 to loan charges, Rs. 67,463 to plague, Rs. 46,508 to improvement of wells and other works of a sanitary nature, Rs. 19,288 to police outposts and Rs. 16,644 to education. Over Rs. 15,500 is reserved by three towns for large drainage works.

Loans.

17. The loans contracted during the year were all taken from the Government, but owing to unforeseen delays in the preparation of drainage projects and in part to the revision of projects already prepared the actual demands fell far short of the amount provided in the estimates. Of the amounts advanced those for Agra, Benares, Lucknow and Mussooree were the remaining instalments of loans sanctioned in previous years ; and the new loans were all for drainage works. Nagina took a sum of Rs. 40,000 and Ujhani a small loan of Rs. 4,000 for the execution of the main drain of the town; while the advances made to Moradabad and Jaunpur represent the first instalments of loans contracted for drainage schemes by these municipalities. The sums received by the several boards were practically all expended during the year, except in the case of Jaunpur and Ujhani. In Jaunpur circumstances necessitated the revision of the estimates after part of the loan had been received while the Ujhani project was somewhat delayed.

Expenditure.

18. It has been observed that in the total expenditure, excluding extraordinary and debt there was an increase of Rs. 4,49,074; the principal variations occurred under the following heads:—

	Rs.		Rs.
Collection of taxes ...	+ 94,076	Markets	+ 55,240
Fire	+ 39,274	Public works... Buildings	+ 2,840
Lighting	+ 78,456	Public works... Roads	+ 35,552
Water supply	+ 1,79,053	Public instruction ...	+ 5,976
Drainage	— 2,54,473	Contributions ...	— 12,852
Conservancy	+ 85,539	Interest on loans ...	— 7,731
Plague preventive measures	+ 9,353	Miscellaneous ...	+ 92,445

The figures of water and drainage works and of education are considered in separate paragraphs.

The reductions in contributions and interest on loans are of little importance, as the accounts of 1906-07 with which the comparison is made contained exceptional items. Plague was much worse in the first quarter of the year than in the corresponding period of 1906-7 and boards were involved in large expenditure before they were relieved (in September 1907) of plague charges, but there would on the whole have been a decrease under the head had the Lucknow accounts not included Rs. 17,376 which was expended on provincial account and repaid to the board.

To the increases under collection of taxes and conservancy famine contributed by necessitating the grant of scarcity allowances and raising the price of fodder; in Mussooree also, which shows an exceptional increase of Rs. 12,138 under conservancy, the additional expenditure was forced on the board mainly by a strike of sweepers for higher wages. But for the most part the increase in expenditure is due to substantial improvements that have been effected during the year. Thus the greater part of the rise under collection of taxes is due to the construction of a portion of a free-ganj at Agra, where the expenditure under this head increased by Rs. 81,830. The expenditure under the head of fire is explained by the purchase of fire engines by the boards of Lucknow and Allahabad. The large increase under markets shows that greater attention has been paid to a subject the importance of which was recognised by the Sanitary Conference; Lucknow, for instance spent Rs. 28,903 on the Aminabad market, an undertaking which is not only desirable on sanitary grounds, but will also it is hoped improve the income of the board. Pilibhit utilized the loan received in the previous year for reconstruction of shops in Drummondganj and the Benares board spent Rs. 19,439 in connection with a systematic plan for improving its properties and carrying out reproductive works. The large increase in these cases is a satisfactory indication of the growing interest taken by boards in the development of their resources, and the bulk of the addition to the miscellaneous charges may be brought under the same head, as it is due to the large outlay in Lucknow (Rs. 53,087) for the acquisition of certain villages which it was decided to remove on sanitary grounds and to the expenditure at Meerut of Rs. 12,578 received in the previous year for the improvement of the Chhapakhana lands.

Apart from these special projects also, it will be observed that there was a substantial improvement in some of the most important branches of municipal administration. Roads were not neglected, and in Lucknow, Bareilly and Allahabad there was a marked increase in the expenditure on road repairs. Expenditure on lighting shows a gratifying expansion, and although the total expenditure falls considerably short of the standard which has been recommended by the Government for general adoption many boards are devoting greater attention to the illumination of the towns under their control. The continued increase in the expenditure incurred by boards on conservancy is another satisfactory feature of the year's outlay. In some towns, however, and notably in Allahabad, the conservancy equipment is clearly capable of further improvement and it is necessary to point out therefore that this improvement should not be delayed in order to find money for drainage or other large projects which exhaust the resources of a municipality. There is frequently no doubt a difficulty in providing funds for all requirements but it is essential that the ordinary conservancy equipment should be made adequate before any larger schemes of sanitary reform are undertaken.

Water and drainage works.

19. The expenditure on water-works in the eight towns with large installations was Rs. 1,30,970 in excess of the expenditure of the previous year, the most noticeable feature being the advance made with the hydro-electric scheme for the Mussooree municipality on which no less than Rs. 4,62,907 was spent. In other towns there was an increase of Rs. 48,083, Dehra having begun extensions with an expenditure of Rs. 37,857, and Almora having spent Rs. 12,491 from its loan of Rs. 13,000.

The demands for renewal of engines, increase of power, and extensions of pipe lines are large, and in view of the financial position of most of the boards concerned they are serious. The Benares board was forced before the close of the year to order a new engine. Cawnpore is faced with the same necessity and it is to be hoped that the necessary additions can be carried out for much less than the original estimate of six lakhs. Lucknow also has to improve its installation, and Mirzapur is convinced of the necessity of a water works scheme both for potable purposes and for flushing drains but has not yet been able to suggest the means of financing it.

Under the head of sewerage and drainage works the most important item to be noticed is the completion of the first portion of the scheme in Lucknow, on which 1½ lakhs were spent during the year. The works at Mirzapur and Deoband, were finished and also, so far as the original estimate was concerned, the Nagina project. Aligarh spent a considerable sum (Rs. 29,793) in filling and draining a large tank, and the preliminary expenses were paid for a large scheme in Moradabad. It is evident however from the small amount that was disbursed in loans and from the large decrease (Rs. 2,54,473) in expenditure as compared with the previous year that the progress of drainage works has been checked. The reason is, as recognised by the Sanitary Conference, that the work has hitherto been carried on by an altogether inadequate staff, and the result, the Lieutenant-Governor is constrained to observe, has been from start to finish a lamentable want of supervision and economy. The projects prepared have been altogether devoid of necessary details; they have frequently omitted to provide for large and essential items of expenditure; on the other hand they have often been extravagant and often framed with a complete disregard of the capabilities of the municipalities for which they were intended; the execution of works has not been properly checked; and no proper accounts have been rendered. Defects of this kind have recently been brought very prominently to notice. Thus an examination of the Jaunpur scheme showed that the estimated cost provided for nearly a mile of drains which did not exist in the plans. In Lucknow an intercepting sewer was estimated to cost 20 lakhs which the Government is now assured can be made efficiently for 1¼ lakhs. In Nagina the original estimate made no provision for the metalling of roads which was essential for the success of the scheme, and the board having spent all its money on the incomplete estimate had to rely on Government for a contribution to finish the work ; the estimate of the Mussooree hydro-electric scheme also omitted to provide for establishment. Bahraich, a town of 26,668 inhabitants and an annual income of some Rs. 39,000, was given a scheme which would have cost over four lakhs. In Mirzapur where the work is finished and the drainage staff has left, the auditor has found that the accounts do not show what work was done, or what materials were employed in construction. The work in hand is exceedingly heavy. There are over twenty towns for which projects are under preparation, are nearing completion or have already been completed. But it is clear that the work cannot continue on previous lines and the Lieutenant-Governor is determined that all projects shall be thoroughly examined and the whole system put on a proper basis before further progress is permitted. The revision of a number of projects, it may be noticed, is already complete and the result has been a very considerable diminution of the cost of the schemes originally prepared.

Education.

20. It was mentioned in the resolution reviewing the reports of last year that new rules had been drawn up defining the duties of municipal boards in the matter of education. Under these rules municipal boards are responsible chiefly for primary education and district boards for secondary education within the municipality, but the question of the exact arrangement to be made in a town and of the financial adjustment between the two boards is decided by a joint committee appointed for the purpose once in every three years. The rules also require that ordinarily municipal boards should devote not less than 5 per cent. of their normal income to education. In accordance with these rules some boards have retained the management of the primary schools and a few—such as Bareilly and Lalitpur—still manage the secondary schools situated within the town. In one or two cases the municipal board has retained the power of deciding how much should be spent on each school and the adjustment is made in the light of the amounts so determined. But in the great majority of places there is merely a lump adjustment between the two boards and the district board has full control over all the schools formerly managed by municipalities.

In consequence of these changes no comparison is possible with the previous year as regards the number of schools managed and the number aided by municipal boards, nor yet in respect of the attendance of scholars. The expenditure on education as a whole increased by Rs. 5,976, but there was an increase of Rs. 22,000 in municipalities where expenditure has hitherto been inadequate as in Cawnpore, where exceptional obligations are undertaken as in Bareilly, or where an unusual amount was spent on buildings, and in the divisions of Meerut, Agra and Gorakhpur, there was a general and considerable decrease. In Gorakhpur this decrease is due to the transfer of a large school to the district board, and in Meerut and Agra it is presumably a result of the arrangements made for the distribution of expenditure between municipal and district board accounts. The expenditure has on the whole reached the prescribed standard ; but there are individual instances in which it has been necessary to call the attention of boards to their failure to spend on education the amount required by the rules or to their neglect of primary in favour of secondary education.

For reasons already explained the exact number of girls' schools, managed and aided, cannot be stated, but it is clear that the number has risen; in Benares it has increased by no less than 14. There are municipalities also such as Budaun, Dhampur and Nagina, where female education appears already to be popular, but in the majority of cases the movement is still very feeble, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that its encouragement, which is a matter to which he attaches great importance, is one which will receive the careful attention of all boards.

The question of the provision of educational facilities for factory children did not make much progress in the year under review. The attention of boards was directed only to the case of children actually employed in mills but the number of such children is seldom large and little has been done. Many boards, too, were of opinion that it was the duty of factory owners to provide for the education of half-timers. The Factory Labour Commission, however, have pointed out the disadvantages of this course and boards have again been addressed on the subject of providing special facilities in ordinary schools, not only for half-timers, but also for the children of factory workers, and of opening new schools, which need not be confined to these classes of children, in localities where they are specially required in their interests.

Investments.

21. Except the transfer to the district board of Government promissory notes for Rs. 700, which were held by the Brindaban municipality for educational purposes, there was no transaction during the year affecting the investment account.

Finances of indebted municipalities.

22. A brief account of the financial condition of each municipality which is in debt to the Government is given below, in accordance with the letter of the Government of India, no. 138, dated the 16th August 1898.

Agra.—The financial position of the municipality has been for some time unsatisfactory, and it even appeared probable at one time that the municipality might close the year with a deficit balance. This anticipation was fortunately not fulfilled, but it has been necessary to postpone much desirable expenditure, and even when allowance is made for a probable expansion in the octroi income and for the revised assessment of the water-rate, the margin between income and expenditure is scarcely sufficient to meet the probable demands on the board's resources. The question however of adjusting the income to the needs of the town must now be held over, till the Committee on Municipal Taxation has reported.

Allahabad.—So far as can be judged from the figures of the year under review the financial condition of the municipality is most unsatisfactory. On the receipt side famine had the effect of adding to the octroi income, but apart from octroi and excluding contributions and other abnormal items there has been no tendency to expansion in the municipal revenue in recent years. In the original estimate of the year the expenditure budgeted for was Rs. 27,000 in excess of the anticipated income, but the actual opening balance was considerably above the estimate and in the revised budget the board proposed to make use of the whole of the amount thus placed at their disposal, the total expenditure being raised to more than a lakh above the income of the year. The actual expenditure fell short by Rs. 20,000 of the revised estimates, and the income at the same time rose, with the result that the board was left with a substantial balance at the end of the year, but after making necessary adjustments and eliminating abnormal items on both sides of the account, the year would appear to show a deficit of Rs. 43,000 and the board has still to overhaul its sanitary equipment and to start the scheme of draining the town. The outlook is therefore not re-assuring and the board has been advised to look seriously into the questions of improving income and cutting down expenditure.

Almora.—The board's position is at present perfectly stable; but there is much scope for sanitary reform in the municipality and it appears that the water works installation will need additions. The board has therefore been advised to examine its position carefully and to determine the requirements of the town and the possibilities of an enhanced revenue.

Ballia.—On the figures of the year the financial position is somewhat dubious, for the board has still to arrange for the drainage of the new town. At the same time the new town scheme will probably add to its income and with careful management it should find no serious difficulty in meeting its obligations.

Bareilly.—The board's financial position is strong; and as the incidence of taxation is low there is a considerable margin for further expansion of revenue which can be drawn upon if necessary.

Benares.—The result of the year's working was that the balance in hand fell to the minimum which the Chairman considers compatible with financial security, yet in spite of large retrenchments, mainly under public works, the budget of 1908-09 anticipated that by the end of the current financial year the balance would be further reduced almost by a half, and it is now reported that there will in fact be a large deficit. The serious condition of affairs which has now been disclosed is being separately considered.

Cawnpore.—No certain conclusion regarding the condition of the board's finances can be drawn from the results of the year since to a large extent the increased income from taxation was abnormal; but an estimate of normal income and expenditure based on the figures of recent years, appears to indicate that, even if the allotment for public works is cut down to a minimum and the charges on account of education and lighting are left considerably below the proper standards, the surplus of income over expenditure is only Rs. 16.000. The requirements of the municipality on the other hand are exceedingly heavy; in particular certain additions to the water works installation are immediately necessary. It is hoped the appointment of a separate paid chairman will lead to an improvement in the board's resources, but if not it will be necessary to consider the question of enhancing taxation.

Chandausi.—The board's position has been considerably strengthened by the unforeseen rise in the octroi income, and it is fortunate that the year closed with a large cash balance since the question of raising more funds by increased taxation must for the present be held over. This balance may, however, be dissipated by large refunds during the current year, and the necessity of economy has been impressed on the board.

Dehra.—The finances of the board continue satisfactory. There is a revenue balance of Rs. 43,741 but much of this sum is however ear-marked for completing the extensions to the water-supply installation and for a municipal office.

Fyzabad.—Financially the year was unfavourable to the municipality as the income decreased, and was less than the expenditure. There is a revenue balance of Rs. 43,058; but the further prosecution of a large drainage scheme has still to be considered and the normal expenditure, excluding exceptional items, appears to be somewhat in excess of the normal income. The board has therefore been advised to look well to its revenues.

Jaunpur.—The financial position is not unsatisfactory, but in order that the board may meet the demands upon its funds, it is necessary that the strictest economy should be observed and that every effort should be made to improve the sources of income.

Kashipur.—The financial position continues satisfactory.

Kosi.—The municipal fund owes not a little of its prosperity to the income derived from the octroi duty on sugar, the continuance of which is uncertain, but even if it were abolished, the board could provide for the present standard of expenditure.

Lucknow.—The total ordinary income of the year was in excess of the figures of the two previous years. A portion of the increase is accounted for by an exceptional item of sale of materials, and the rise in the octroi income was due in some measure to the circumstances of the year; but in addition to this there has been some expansion in the regular receipts. The expenditure was well distributed and on the whole the financial position continues to be satisfactory.

To meet the cost of further improvements, some of which will be required very shortly, the board has in part prepared the way by a revision of establishment and a retrenchment of expenditure, and action has been taken or is under consideration to enhance the rates of octroi duty, to charge slaughter-house fees and to tax certain trades. It is hoped that in this way the income will be sufficient for the growing wants of the town, but it is clear that the board must exercise care and economy.

Meerut.—Apart from abnormal items the income improved, and though there was no contraction in the outlay the year closed with a substantial balance of Rs. 75,803. The financial position is very satisfactory.

Mirzapur.—Though the board should not experience any difficulty in meeting its existing loan liabilities, the position is not entirely satisfactory, for on the figures of the year under review, the income fell short of the outlay by Rs. 18,000 and allowing for exceptional items it appears that in normal times there would not be any considerable surplus to finance further schemes of improvement. There is some room for improvement of the return from the existing sources of income, but if the scheme of water supply which the board contemplates is undertaken it will probably be necessary to increase taxation.

Moradabad.—The drainage scheme has been revised and the cost which originally was put at Rs. 5,82,573 has been considerably reduced. On the figures of the year, however, after eliminating plague charges, the income fell short of the outlay by about Rs. 1,500, and though the charges on account of public works are capable of reduction it is not clear how the charges on a loan of (say) even three lakhs will be discharged. There will probably be no difficulty about an enhancement of taxation, but the matter must be held over pending receipt of the report of the Committee on Municipal Taxation and in the meanwhile the board must not incur additional liabilities.

Mussooree.—The financial position of this municipality has been the subject of anxiety both to the Government and to the board. The serious condition of affairs which came to light in the course of the year was due in part to the strike of sweepers which has been noticed and to the larger expenditure in pumping water necessitated by the failure of the monsoon. The principal causes, however, of the difficulties in which the board is involved were the utilization for other purposes of new income which had been raised to defray the loan charges anticipated on account of the hydro-electric scheme, the fact that the completion of that scheme was delayed and the considerable excess of the actual cost of the scheme as compared with the original estimate. The whole matter has been the subject of a careful inquiry, and the Government has promised a grant to the board during each of the next six years, while certain enhancements in taxation have been proposed and sanctioned. With these additions to its income it is hoped that the board will be able in a short time to recover from its present financial embarrassment.

Nagina.—A loan of Rs. 40,000 was given to the board for its drainage project. The income of the municipality has increased considerably in recent years, and there is no present apprehension of the board's capacity to discharge its liability, though at the same time some work remains to be done in connection with the main project and there are other sanitary works which cannot be long delayed. The cost of these will in part be met from a Government subvention, and to satisfy other requirements the board must endeavour to develop its income.

Naini Tal.—The board discharged its liabilities during the year; but the financial position is not satisfactory for, after meeting unavoidable charges, the board has only Rs. 5,000 a year to spend on public works and necessary improvements to the roads and additions to the conservancy plant will entail considerable expenditure. Possibly the income from the municipal market will improve, but this appears to be the only direction in which the income can be developed and it may be found necessary to enhance the rates of tolls to provide sufficient funds.

Pilibhit.—The board intends to take a further loan of Rs. 11,000 for reconstructing more shops, but will find no difficulty in discharging its liabilities.

Ujhani.—The board's position is perfectly stable and it can easily discharge the small loan of Rs. 4,000 which it has taken.

Vaccination.

23. The total number of successful primary operations rose from 97,172 to 105,762 the highest figure attained in recent years, while the proportion of persons successfully vaccinated per mille of the population rose from 32·49 to 38·59. Revaccination was favoured by a severe outbreak of small-pox towards the close of the year, and some boards particularly Almora, Balrampur, Sitapur, Kasganj and Kashipur have exerted themselves to secure good results. On the other hand it is not pleasant to record that the vaccination work in twenty-three municipalities, including the large towns of Cawnpore, Lucknow and Meerut, was inadequate or even bad, and that in Fatehgarh-cum-Farrukhabad results were highly unsatisfactory. The chairman of the Meerut board reports that "there is still considerable apathy and passive opposition chiefly among the vakil class." The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the members of the various boards will use all their personal influence to promote more enlightened ideas on the subject, and that those boards which have not devoted sufficient attention to this important branch of their duties will make special efforts in future years to ensure an adequate degree of protection against small-pox in the towns under their administration.

Vital statistics.

24. The vital statistics are less distressing than in the previous year, the mortality per mille having declined from 55·31 to 47·17, while there was again an increase in the number of births. But the figures are still such as to give rise to the most serious reflections. The excess of deaths over births continued and during the year amounted to 6·9 per mille of the population. A death-rate of 60 per mille or more is reported from 15 towns, of which all but two are situated in either the Meerut or the Rohilkhand divisions: the most noticeable figures are those of Chandpur (110·12), Kairana (101·79), Hathras (77·71), Kandhla (75·41), Sardhana (74·75), Kosi (73·08), Koil (Aligarh) (72·69) and Amroha (72·07). In all cases plague was the main contributing cause, but epidemics of small-pox also prevailed in Amroha, Sambhal and Sandila, while in Koil (Aligarh) the death-rate from malarial fever was exceptionally high. The municipal returns do not show separately the deaths of infants; but from the report of the Sanitary Commissioner for the year 1907 it appears that in municipalities the infantile death-rate was 301·50 per mille, and eight towns returned a rate of over 400. It was time that the whole question of public health should be thoroughly examined as it has been recently by the Sanitary Conference which met at Naini Tal.

General.

25. The chief lesson of the year the Lieutenant-Governor considers is the necessity of improved financial administration. Financially the boards have had a good year, the large increase in expenditure shows that they have made full use of their opportunities and the allocation of the funds at their disposal has been sound and beneficial. But some boards have made haste to employ their surplus without considering whether they could afford to do so and the summary of results which is given in paragraph 22 of this resolution shows that in a large number of cases the financial position is very far from satisfactory. This result is due no doubt in great measure to the large schemes of sanitary improvement which have been carried out by the municipalities concerned, but it is due also in part to bad finance. The matter is in no way a technical one but calls simply for the application of common sense. It is clearly wrong for a municipality to spend the whole of an unexpected addition to its income on miscellaneous objects while it is face to face with a large drainage scheme for example, for which it will be difficult if not impossible to provide from its ordinary resources. It is equally wrong to sanction recurring expenditure against a windfall or on the strength merely of a large balance in hand ; clearly the total of such expenditure must never be allowed to exceed the annual income on which the board can count one year with another. It is wrong to hold bills over for payment from one year to another. It is wrong to sanction any expenditure whatever to meet which there is not an ascertained margin. These matters are mentioned because experience shows that in practice they are disregarded and their observance is becoming more and more necessary. The whole scheme of municipal administration, it may be said, is under consideration. The Sanitary Conference has met, and its comprehensive recommendations while they will make undoubtedly for the welfare of the people, will add largely to the work of municipal boards. The general question of taxation is about to be examined by a special committee. It is quite possible that the scheme of local self government will be largely modified by the recommendations of the Decentralization Commission. One way and another it is certain that the sphere of municipal activity and the responsibilities of municipal boards will be enlarged. To fit the boards for the proper discharge of their duties, the first essential is that they should learn to establish and maintain a sound financial position. They must face their difficulties as they arise instead of postponing the reckoning in the hope that something may turn up ; they must in providing for the present have an eye also for the future. They must in short practice economy, which means, not cheeseparing, but a just appreciation of requirements and a wise foresight in the administration of their resources.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions for information and communication to the chairmen of municipal boards.

Ordered also that a copy be published in the United Provinces Government Gazette for general information.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor.
